DEMANDS BOOKS OF MORGAN FIRM

Sketch of Henry Rogers Winthrop, an Equitable official, as he testified before the insurance investigating committee on Wednesday.

Counsel for Committee Insists on Seeing Actual Entries.

PERKINS AT FIRST REFUSES REQUEST

Dealings of New York Life in the Navigation Syndicate Are in Question.

BIG LOANS MADE TO AGENTS

In Effort of New York Life to Get Men Away from Other Companies, Bonuses Given Sometimes Exceeded the Amount of Business Done.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Several sensational incidents developed at the session of the executive committee on life insurance investigation today. The first was when George W. Perkins, vice president of the New York Life Insurance Company and a member of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., objected to producing the books of his firm, showing a certain transaction of that firm with the New York Life.

Mr. Perkins offered to present a copy of the entry in question from the books, but Mr. Hughes demanded the books after several refusals on the part of Mr. Perkins. The books will be produced later.

In the course of his testimony Mr. Perkins was asked concerning the difference in the statement of "profits from securities" in the Massachusetts report of the company and of "net profits from securities" in the New York report. He said:

"When we get national supervision we won't have these conflicts between the different states."

Mr. Perkins testified to a number of transactions in which he represented Morgan & Co. as seller and the New York Life Insurance Company as purchaser.

Loans Made to Agents.

Another sensation was sprung later in the day when Vice President Thomas A. Buckner of the New York Life Insurance Company detailed the advances made to agents and which were carried in the report to the state superintendent of insurance as "commuting renewal premiums." It was brought out as a matter of fact that these advances were loans, but were not carried as such. Mr. Buckner testified that advances were made to agents sometimes as inducements to leave other companies and enter the employ of the New York Life.

A situation of conflict in Buffalo in 1901 between the Equitable and the New York Life was brought out, and in order to get agents of the Equitable away from that company liberal advances and liberal contracts were made by the New York Life. Mr. Buckner testified that these advances to agents in the Buffalo branch of the New York Life in 1902 alone exceeded by $18,000, the amount really earned by these agents. Later Mr. Buckner acknowledged this was most extravagant, and said in 1903 the amount was cut down by half, and by half the remaining amount in 1904.

A copy of a contract and a confidential letter to David H. Desbecker of Buffalo, one of the agents in question, showing the inducements held out to him to enter the employ of the New York Life, was read.

It was under this contract that Mr. Desbecker and a number of other agents entered the employ of the New York Life in Buffalo.

Hughes Grows Warm.

While Mr. Perkins was on the stand in the afternoon there was a clash between the witness and Mr. Hughes, the first of anything of this nature that has occurred since the committee began its sessions. It was when Mr. Perkins was testifying to the moneys in the "Nylic" fund, of which he is trustee.

Mr. Perkins did not want it to appear on the records that the agents paid part of their salaries into the fund under contract, unless the words "and bonuses" appeared. He said to Mr. Hughes that he (Mr. Hughes) was trying to get away from something, and the counsel hotly

FIGHT FOR LIFE AGAINST ODDS

Abraham Marks Has a Fierce Battle With Two Desperate Negro Highwaymen.

PROBABLY FATALLY WOUNDED

Two negro highwaymen held up Abraham Marks, a huckster, at Swissheim hollow, near Swissvale, at 7:45 o'clock last night. Their efforts at robbery were foiled by the fierce battle which Marks put up. Enraged at being cheated of their booty one of the negroes placed the muzzle of a revolver against Marks' left groin and fired. The ball tore its way through the flesh and the negroes sped from the scene of the conflict, leaving their victim for dead by the roadside. He was found later by a policeman and taken to the office of a Swissvale physician, who temporarily dressed his wounds. Later he was removed to Mercy hospital, where his condition is reported as serious.

Marks is 23 years old and lives at 48 Linton street, Eleventh ward, this city. He had been in Braddock all day. Having disposed of the last of his goods he started on his way to the city. At Swissheim hollow, a lonely spot along the route of the old Monongahela street railway, his progress was interrupted by the appearance of the negroes. One grasped the horse by the bridle, while the other pointed a revolver at Marks' head and demanded his money.

Marks had $38 in his pocket, and he resolved to keep it. Before the negro with the revolver realized his purpose he leaped from the wagon and engaged in battle the one at the horse's head. The two men fell in the road with their arms locked about each other. The second negro went to his companion's assistance, but the battle was so swift he had little opportunity to help. Marks got his fingers around his black antagonist's throat and was presently encouraged by noticing that the struggles of the negro were growing weaker.

The other negro, however, had been waiting for an opportunity. It came when his companion's condition was almost helpless. Seeing they would not be able to get Marks' money, and fearing the noise of the battle would attract others, he crouched beside the panting and struggling Marks, placed his revolver against his groin and fired. Marks' fingers relaxed from the negro's throat and the man leaped to his feet. Even then Marks kept on fighting until he fell to the ground from loss of blood.

As the negroes' footsteps died away down the road Marks set up a call for help. It attracted the attention of Policeman Dominick McCaffrey, the ex-pugilist, who was on duty in Edgewood. He started in the direction of the cries and found Marks lying in a pool of blood in the middle of the road, his strength all but gone. McCaffrey took him to the office of Dr. W. R. Fausett, who dressed his wounds and then sent him to the hospital. Searching parties were out the greater part of the night looking for the negroes.

NOW BEFORE HIGHER POWER.

Constables Waiting to Arrest a Man Are Shocked to Find Him Dead.

WASHINGTON, PA., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—Waiting at the mouth of shaft No. 1 at the Manifold coal mines today with a warrant for the arrest of Joe Grego, Constable G. W. Clutter and Detective H. K. Sarver were shocked to find when the cage reached the top, instead of Grego, his decapitated body.

The man had been killed in the mine a few minutes before. The officers were there to arrest him on a surety of the peace charge. While trying to get into the cage just as it was about to ascend, Grego was caught between the cage and the side of the shaft and instantly crushed to death. His head was practically torn off.

KILLING GOOSE OF GOLDEN EGG

BERRY INVADES OIL CITY

Special Telegram From WALTER J. CHRISTY, Staff Correspondent.

OIL CITY, PA., Sept. 28.—Tonight the candidate of the Democratic party for state treasurer, William M. Berry, marched through the streets of Oil City behind this banner:

"Venango—County—Without—License."

This will help Democratic "chairman "Jim" Hall when he is trying to get campaign assessments from the distillers, brewers and saloonkeepers. Many of them will be expected to throw their dollars into the Democratic collection basket. It is Hall's job to look after the liquor vote and the liquor contributions. Berry labors with the "brethren" and announces that money must not be used in his behalf. The freight payers of his show know better.

For the first time this week Berry was greeted by a big audience. The opera house was packed. The two sexes were about evenly divided. It was a gathering of Prohibitionists. This point was settled when Robert F. Glenn, the Democratic-Prohibition candidate for judge in this district, stepped to the footlights and renewed his pledge to wipe out the saloons of Venago if the people name him for judge. The crowd went wild. There were few Democrats present.

Glenn Mystifies His Friends.

The Prohibition party is strong in Venango. It is second in strength. When Glenn decided to run for judge on the no-saloon basis, he thought his Democratic party would line up solidly behind him and the whole Prohibition vote would be delivered. He thought he saw his election and the defeat of Judge George S. Criswell, who has granted licenses, and will continue to do so in the same careful manner he has followed for 10 years. Glenn has always been considered a

RED FEZ MEN FIND OASIS

SYRIA'S BIG FETE

GIVE EAR TO SOME OF THESE DEFINITIONS

A poetic desert is a dream waste of burning sand inhabited by Mystic Shriners.

An oasis is a spot for refreshment of spirit surrounded by a desert.

A noble of the Mystic Shrine is a gentleman who delights to repose amid the sparkling refreshments of an oasis.

The annual autumn outing of Syria Temple, Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, is a day in Pittsburgh's calendar which is dedicated by the Shriners to the making of their way out of the desert.

Today was the date and the Masonic Country club up here on the picturesque Youghiogheny was the oasis.

Special Telegram From JOHN P. COWAN, Staff Correspondent.

BEAR RUN, PA., Sept. 28.—This tells the whole story—but space isn't tight tonight. Everything is quiet now. The sun went down behind Chestnut ridge in all the crimson radiance of autumn glow and the night jays and the screech owls are playing an evening tune that sounds something like

Everybody works but father,
He sits around all day,
Feet in front of the fire,
Smoking his Henry Clay.
Mother takes in washing
And so does sister Ann
Everybody works at our house
But my old man.

But nobody ought to blame the jays or the owls. The poor birds have heard nothing else for the last 12 hours. "Everybody works but father" is the favorite melody of the Shriners. They sing it all the time, their wives never grow tired of it, their sweethearts hum it and their children cry for it. The latest minstrel tune is certainly "Yankee Doodle" and the "Dixie" of the Shriners this year.

Twenty-five hundred weavers of the red fezzes responded to the invocation. They came up the valley through the morning's fog from all parts of Western Pennsylvania. They filled three big special trains on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad—the camel is too slow when the Shriners start out to find the right kind of an oasis, and, be it remembered, that a standard baggage car will carry, eat and drink just as far as any of the sharp-backed ships of the desert.

Weatherman Ridgway, with his prophetic, came in advance and cut away the fog. "Billy" Martin and John Barbour hid away above par for sunshine and a great deal came out for that price. Overcoats were "hocked" at the icehouse when the warmth of the occasion took material form and there were corners on shade when the quotations closed at 2 p. m.

It was a boisterous performance, with comedy and burlesque always on the card. Dancing never ceased and the crowd kept constantly moving. Of the refreshments there was no end. Innumerable tubs of lemonade and punch, immense kilos of ice cream bricks, cauldrons of steaming coffee, stacks of sandwiches of cheese, ham, tongue, chicken, shrimps, sardines and caviar were provided, besides a whole kennel of "hot dogs."

Who wouldn't trump the morphine Arabian nards a while for an oasis like this?

What Herman Junker Did.

Herman Junker was some of the nobles call him—master of ceremonies. His duties included the services as caller and train dispatcher at the station, conductor on the train, master of the sideshows at the circus and figure-caller on the dancing platform. John Dowling ground the coffee and carried the keys to the hot-house.

The circus started with a matinee at 1 o'clock. There was thrilling bareback riding, a performing elephant, "the slide for life," trapeze performance, jubilee singers, "the lady in blue" and a bunch of Indians. At the big banquet after the show the lady in blue led all vocalists in "Everybody Works But Father," with the explosive refrain:

"D@#!?%(..)am old loafer!"

At the burlesque performance it is customary for the reporter who "writes" the

WILD RIDE ON ENGINE PILOT FOLLOWS MAN'S HEROIC DEED

Braddock Youth Saves Two Women from Death, but Coat Is Caught in Flag Staff and He Gets Unusual Journey.

At the risk of losing his own life Charles Pater, a Braddock youth, saved two women from being run down by the Duquesne Limited at Eleventh street, Braddock, last night. Pater was struck but not badly hurt. Instead he was picked up on the pilot of the big locomotive and carried on the wings of the wind to Port Perry, a distance of over two miles, before he found an opportunity to escape from his precarious perch.

Pater was passing along Eleventh street when he heard the thunder of the limited near the station. About the same time he noticed the women on the track. Apparently they were oblivious of the approach of the train. Pater shouted to them, but they heard him not. Then he started to run, reaching their side as the train came in sight. One push sent the women reeling from the track, but the train was on Pater before he could make an effort to get away. He says he felt that his life was about to be ground out, and then felt himself lifted from the ground and borne swiftly through space.

Pater says he did some very fast thinking in the instant that he was lifted upwards. When he discovered that one of the flag staffs on the pilot had caught in his coat, and that it was only by a rather unsubstantial thread that he was prevented from falling on the tracks ahead of the train.

Suppose the garment would not hold? It was barely possible that it was one of those "I am yours for $5.98," in which case Pater decided it was time for action. He twisted himself around until he was able to grasp the flag-staff with both hands. Then he held on for dear life. Nearing Port Perry the limited got the flag to slow up. A shifter was crossing over. It was Pater's opportunity and he seized it. As the speed of the train decreased he swung himself to the side of the tracks and dropped to safety. He was not hurt, but his clothing was torn and rather dilapidated when he entered the Braddock police station some time later and related his thrilling experience. He doesn't know yet who the women were who were responsible for his flight through space.

CHEAPER MEAT FOR THE COMING WINTER

Secretary of Agriculture Wilson Explains Why Prices Will Be Lower.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Secretary Wilson of the department of agriculture today predicted lower retail prices during the coming winter season for meat, dairy products, poultry and other necessities of life. He says the relief for the householder will come from the enormous yields of small grain and corn in the great grain territory of Illinois, Minnesota, the Dakotas, Iowa, Nebraska and Kansas.

"Heavy crops," the secretary said, "have resulted in the return of normal agricultural conditions in the great producing states. The meat producers have been losing money for the past three years. Grain cost too much. There was no profit in feeding, as strange as this may seem to people who pay such prices as we do for our meat. But the heavy grass crop of this year, the heavy corn crop and the heavy oats crop, will all combine to bring about normal feeding conditions. And this means a direct influence on horses, beef, pork, dairy products and poultry."

RAMSEY WILL HAVE THE AID OF KEENE

Veteran Operator Enters the Wabash Fight—Action Recalls His Hatred of Jay Gould.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—A new and significant phase of the fight between George J. Gould and Joseph Ramsey, Jr., for control of the Wabash railroad developed today when it became known that Ramsey has enlisted the support of the veteran operator, James R. Keene in his campaign.

Keene's firm, Talbot J. Taylor & Co., has been very active in soliciting proxies for the annual meeting on October 19. Recently when Wabash debenture "B's" which are supposed to carry control of the situation, rose to about 75, Keene was credited with being a large buyer of them. The entrance of Mr. Keene into the most sensational fight since the Northern Pacific episode, recalls the bitter hatred that he had for the late Jay Gould.

Today Wall street confidently expected the issuance of President Ramsey's circular explaining in detail his request for proxies in the forthcoming Wabash annual election. The circular failed to materialize.

One puzzling fact is that none of the brokerage firms known to deal in Wabash stock has received Ramsey's request for proxies. This is attributed to the playing of a deep game on Ramsey's part.

OBJECT TO SPENDING MONEY ON PRESIDENT

MONTGOMERY, ALA., Sept. 28.—At a special meeting of the city council today Alderman Sullivan opposed the resolution to appropriate money for the entertainment of President Roosevelt when he comes to Montgomery. Acting Mayor McIntyre, who is also a member of the council, walked out during the proceedings, leaving no quorum, and the resolution was laid over.

DOG BRINGS TO LIGHT GHASTLY REMINDER OF BRUTAL MURDER

Carries to Master Skull of Harry Anderson, Who, in Jealous Anger, Killed Henry Buchanan in Mistake for Another.

A dog found the body of Harry Anderson, who was wanted in this county for the murder of George Henry Buchanan, shot and killed on July 18 last at Clairton. The remains of the murderer were found near a tunnel on the Wabash railroad, between Wilson and Clairton stations. Anderson committed suicide by shooting himself, and from the condition of his body he must have killed himself shortly after the murder in order to evade justice.

Yesterday afternoon a collie dog belonging to John Gonney, a farmer near Clairton, came running to his master with a human skull in his mouth. Gonney placed the skull in a basket and drove the dog away. When the animal was rebuked by Gonney he started out of the yard across the fields. Gonney followed him and found the dog standing over the body of a man.

There was nothing but the skeleton and some tattered clothing left. A revolver was found by his side. Gonney reported his discovery to the chief of police of Clairton, and an investigation was made. When Anderson shot Buchanan he used a weapon which was the property of Mrs. Jamie Elder, with whom Anderson and Buchanan boarded. It was thought the body was that of Anderson, and the revolver was taken to Mrs. Elder, who identified it as her property. This apparently completed the identification.

The county detectives had exhausted all efforts to find Anderson.

Anderson shot Buchanan in mistake for Edward Grummins. He was jealous of the latter's attentions to Mrs. Elder. Buchanan and his brother, Robert G., were asleep in their room at Mrs. Elder's house. About 11 o'clock at night Anderson entered in search for Grummins. Mistaking Buchanan for him, he shot him while he was lying in bed.

Buchanan's brother, awakened by the shot, jumped out of bed and saw Anderson standing over the body of his brother. Anderson rushed out of the house and Buchanan, who was still conscious, said: "Anderson shot me." Buchanan died 30 minutes later. Buchanan was employed as a brakeman on the P. V. & C. railroad, and his parents live at 5250 Second avenue. He was in years of age. Anderson was 35 years of age and lived at Clairton, where he was employed as a rigger in the steel works.

the cane-carrying "dean of the dramatic page" to briefly summarize the specialties by saying something about the wonderful features of the "ollo." The fact is that the sub for the man who carries the cane doesn't often go wrong. In the case of today's "big show" he would say that the specialties were performed by these:

"Peerless bareback rider," Dr. H. C. Blethrow; the Pittsburgh Sandow, Dr. Greenawalt; "Girl in Blue," O. P. Moeckel; slide for life, H. J. Learn; clown, H. W. Cromer; snake charmer, J. J. Keller; fat lady, C. W. Kreiling; Mrs. Chadwick, Hans Ridall; jubilee singers, Ed Wagner, A. H. Sunshine, J. F. Wysser, Frank McComb and G. W. C. Snyder. George H. Holcombe was the announcer and wore out five collars in the task. The proprietor, impressario, and resident manager was H. W. Klein."

Twenty-six pretty little girls, daughters of Shriners, from the Sixth ward public schools in Allegheny, gave an effective drill on the dancing platform and each was given an attractive loving cup as a souvenir. Walter Shook directed the drill. The ladies' encore was not held because the counter attractions were too strong.

Important ceremonies like the chasing of the greased pig, the climbing of the greased pole and the sack races were held on schedule. The little folks were well cared for and all sorts of games were provided. A lot of other things could be said about today's outing, but suffice it by declaring that the B. & O. made good and brought everybody home on schedule time with happy memories of a day when

SUE WILLIAMS RELATES STRANGE STORY TO MARRON

She Says the Allegheny Police Are Persecuting Girls Who Formerly Lived in Her House.

Mrs. Sue Williams, who was the principal witness for the commonwealth in the trial of Police Captain James Wilson of Allegheny, called upon Attorney John Marron yesterday. Mrs. Williams formerly conducted a disorderly house in the First ward of the North Side, but says she was compelled to get out of the business because of police persecution. Now, she declares that girls who formerly lived in her house are being hounded by the Allegheny police officials, who are bent upon revenge.

Mrs. Williams says two of her girls who went to live in a house at 608 East Lacock street were arrested last Sunday morning and were fined $25 and costs or 30 days to jail. One girl had the money, but the other went to jail. When some of the girl's friends went around through the ward seeking to have some landlady pay the fine and secure her release, Mrs. Williams says they were told the police had warned every one not to have anything to do with the girls who had been in the Williams woman's house.

Mr. Marron did not say what possible action would be taken as a result of Mrs. Williams' story. Mr. Marron says he believes the story is true in every particular and is characteristic of Allegheny police methods, but is doubtful if he or the district attorney should take any action.

HAVE POLICE PROTECTION.

Lack of Evidence Prevents Conviction of Men Charged With Living Off Dissolute Women.

The ignoring of indictments against men accused of preying on immoral women has caused considerable comment among the officers in the district attorney's office. Superintendent of County Detectives R. G. Robinson says the police and politicians interceded for the men and the women were forced to withhold testimony from the grand jury, or be driven out of the city.

The grand jury ignored the bills in three cases owing to statements made by women. The women formerly informed the district attorney they gave these men their earnings from a dissolute life, and when they appeared before the grand jury they said they had merely loaned the money. Superintendent Robinson said he was unable to do anything in the matter except prosecute the women for perjury, which will hardly be done.

It is a well known fact there are from 60 to 75 men living on the hill district who are supported by women. When these men were arrested the police sent for the women and informed them if they testified unfavorably before the grand jury they would be driven out of the city.

MORE HONOR FOR SOLDIERS.

President Roosevelt Desires to Make the Conferring of Medals as Impressive as Possible.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—(Special.)—In an executive order made public today by the war department, the president is evidently trying to make the conferring of medals of honor upon officers and enlisted men of the army as impressive as such presentations are in the navy. Whenever practicable the recipient is to come to Washington and receive from the president's own hands the badge of his distinguished service.

When not practicable to have the presentation at Washington the details of time, place and ceremony will be prescribed by the chief of staff for each case.

MARK HANNA'S SON BECOMES AN "ANGEL"

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—Dan R. Hanna, son of the late Senator Hanna, is the financial backer of "The Crossing," which will be given its American premiere at the opera house here next Monday night. Winston Churchill will be here to direct the rehearsals and will be the guest of Mr. Hanna. "The Crisis" was backed by Mr. Hanna and its success led him to become angel for "The Crossing."

NEGRO QUESTION IS SOLE ISSUE

Senator Gorman Promises Maryland Democrats He Is With Them to End.

TALKS ABOUT "BLACK PULL"

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

BALTIMORE, Sept. 28.—At the Democratic state convention of Maryland here today Comptroller of the State Gordon T. Atkinson was renominated and a platform adopted which, excepting a paragraph indorsing the excellent business administration of the present Democratic governor, Edwin Warfield, is wholly devoted to the advocacy of the proposed constitutional amendment to restrict negro suffrage, which will be the sole issue at the November election.

Just before the convention closed there were loud calls for Senator Arthur Pue Gorman, who was present, but had taken no part in the proceedings. Senator Gorman responded with a brief speech in which he said:

"I use the expression of Henry Winter Davis, with whom I differed politically as widely as the poles, when, denounced by the Maryland legislature, he said: 'I consider it a decoration of honor.' I so consider the abuse of Republicans and 'mugwumps' when they denounce me for joining you in an endeavor to lift the black pall which hangs over our fair state.

"I have been fighting this same struggle under various conditions during the last 40 years, and I say now that if in November next we can lift, as I believe we will, this pall from the state and restore to the intelligent white men the untrammeled right to control our own affairs, I will agree never to seek place and will die a happy man.

"But I promise this, if life and health be spared, that if by any corrupt combination with disaffected Democrats or reformers, the negroes and their white Republican allies should defeat us in this election, I am still a soldier and will fight on.

"As white men never surrender, but always fight for their liberty and their manhood, we will fight until there is not one left to accomplish an object so necessary for the welfare of the state. I am with you for that as long as I live."

THREE MEN TAKE POISON; TWO ARE NOW DEAD

One Makes His Third Unsuccessful Attempt, Trying a Different Drug Each Time.

Poison was popular yesterday. Two men left this world by that route, and another made his third unsuccessful attempt.

"Good-bye, Jim, and God bless you," was the note left by Michael Henry.

"All I ask of my friends is to send my home to my mother. Good-bye, all; I am going home," wrote William G. Coles, a negro.

Thomas Rosewell had no ante-mortem manuscript, and as he will live, he can tell his friends what he thought when he drank laudanum.

Henry was a bartender, about 32 years old. His relatives are believed to live in New York. He had been out of work and drinking. He drank carbolic acid in the room he shared with James Monahan at 439 Sixth avenue. He was found dead in bed early yesterday morning.

Coles, aged 26, also drank carbolic acid. Domestic trouble had made him despondent. He boarded at 5617 Eva street, and took the poison in his room at 11 o'clock yesterday morning. He died at 5 p. m. His remains will be shipped to his mother at South River, Va. His widow lives at 5640 Rural street.

Rosewell, aged 27, living at 331 Lehigh avenue, has been despondent because of sickness. He drank a bottle of laudanum at the corner of Frankstown and Penn avenues. He was taken to the police station and pumped out. It was a close call, but he will recover. At his own request he was sent to Marshalsea. About a year ago Rosewell drained a bottle of phenol while standing at Highland and Center avenues. Early in the spring he swallowed cyanide of potassium while visiting in Cincinnati.

MANY DELEGATES PRESENT.

Young People's Christian Union Presbyterial Holds Successful Convention.

Three hundred delegates attended the seventeenth annual convention of the Young People's Christian Union Presbyterial at the United Presbyterian church, East McKeesport, yesterday afternoon. The district covers from Braddock to Ligonier. The following addresses were made:

The Rev. J. P. McCrory, D. D., Pittsburgh, "Spiritual Enthusiasm"; the Rev. Charles Stunkard, Murraysville, "Y. P. C. U. Opportunities"; the Rev. J. B. Ricketts, Wilmerding, "First Impression from Canonsburg Convention"; Miss Virginia Adams, East McKeesport, "An Model Junior"; the Rev. J. F. Walker, McKeesport, "Some Impressions to Take Home." At the opening session William Douthett of Greensburg spoke on "Results in Y. P. C. U. Service," and the Rev. W. R. Wishart, D. D., Allegheny, "Sojourning in Babylon."

BANK IS BUNCOED OUT OF SECURITIES WORTH $360,000

Stranger Presents Bogus Check in Repayment of Brokerage Firm's One-Day Loan, and Is Given Its Collateral.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—The details of a statement whereby the National City bank of this city was recently victimized by a clever forger came out today. The forger presented a bogus check bearing the name of a well-known stock exchange firm, and received in return securities valued at about $360,000.

Pearl & Co., stock brokers at 27 William street, recently negotiated a one-day loan for $360,000 with the City National bank. On Wednesday a check for the amount of the loan, plus $37.50 for the day's interest, was presented at this bank by a stranger, who received the security deposited by Pearl & Co. for their loan.

The bank on which the brokers' check was drawn is one with which Pearl & Co. never had an account, so the forgery was not discovered until the check had passed through the clearing house exchange, when it was promptly branded as fictitious. A private detective agency was called in and transfer of the securities was at once stopped. The detectives intimate that they have a clew to the identity of the forger, who is believed to have had one or more accomplices. It is believed the forger had an intimate knowledge of Pearl & Co.'s affairs. E. F. Slayback, junior member of Pearl & Co., said:

"If the forgery should involve any loss the bank will be amply able to stand it.

"The odd amount of the forged check," added Mr. Slayback, "represents a day's interest at 4½ per cent. As a matter of fact the loan is recorded on our books at 4¼ per cent. Clearly somebody must have had knowledge of the loan, yet had it been someone in our employ the interest rate would have been computed at 4½ per cent.

"The firm of Pearl & Co. consists of Dyer Pearl and Slayback. Mr. Pearl is in Europe. The members of the firm own stock exchange seats, and their operations on the board have at various times been very extensive.

The securities offered by Pearl & Co. for their loan and surrendered by the bank for a piece of worthless paper included 1,000 shares United States Steel common, 1,000 shares Rock Island common, 1,000 shares Metropolitan Street Railway, 700 shares Missouri Pacific, 200 shares North American Company, 47 American Tobacco Company 6 per cent bonds and some Wabash debenture B bonds.

It is the custom in great banks like the National City to set the rate of interest for call loans in the morning between 10 and 11 o'clock, the ordinary procedure being to call up the maker of the note on the telephone during that hour to give him the proper notification.

According to Mr. Slayback the man who got the securities did not give the bank a chance to call up his office Wednesday morning. Ten o'clock had hardly struck before the whole transaction had been accomplished and the securities gone.

Payment on loans is made by certified check and those checks are carried about by young men throughout the business hours without fear or concealment. There was a long line of such messengers before the loan clerk's window Wednesday morning, when a young man placed a certified check for $360,037.50 through the window, saying he was there to take up the Pearl & Co. call loan.

The loan clerk verified the computation of interest and finding it correct, examined the check. It was apparently drawn by Pearl & Co. on the Hanover National bank, by which it also appeared to have been certified. The clerk turned at once to the safe, found the envelope, verified it by the list appended, pushed it through the window and turned to the next transaction.

The loss of $360,000 would not make a ripple in the day's business of the National City bank if it should turn out that the bank would lose.

KILLING GOOSE OF GOLDEN EGG

same man. He ranks high in his profession and was considered brainy as a member of the Pennsylvania legislature. Just now his friends are wondering. His political calculations mystify them. It is difficult to believe the Democratic party is going to march to the polls in November and by "their sacred franchise," as the reformers say, declare that the day of cold lager and hot "weinies" is past, or that the man who likes his wee "nippy" straight or in "highball" form is to be forced to slack his thirst in the innumerable speakeasies which would spring up in Venango county. The Democratic ranks are thinning. A solid Republican party stands behind Judge Criswell and his election is certain. Ten years ago he defeated Robert Glenn and he will do it again. Not a word is said against Judge Criswell's ability. The only issue in the contest is the licensed saloon.

Funds Must Come from Saloons.

To assist in the overthrow of the saloon in Venango, Berry and Homer L. Castle of Pittsburgh were brought here tonight. Now and until the end of the campaign the manipulators behind Berry who are striving to elect him will be at work in the saloons to drag the proprietors and their patrons to the banner of Democracy. Democratic brewers will be expected to contribute barrels of free beer for the "boys" and toss their dollars into the campaign fund. Behind the scenes in the Democratic party there is no hypocrisy.

Someone must have said something to Mr. Castle. At Greensburg on Tuesday night he said that while he would have some sins to answer for, he thanked God that among them was not the sin of having voted the Democratic ticket. He has spent years in flaying the Democracy. Tonight he tried to wipe out the past and begin anew for this campaign. He said:

"I am glad to join hands tonight with my Democratic friends and forget and ask them to forget all that I have said about them."

In the next breath Castle was declaring himself to be a great advocate of expansion. He is glad that we are now like the British empire and the sun never sets on our possessions. In the language of the good old Democrat of Greensburg, "Now, ain't that a hell of a Democratic speech?"

Misinformed About Legislation.

Mr. Castle attacked the legislature. He had not looked into the facts concerning the appropriations of the last session of the lawmakers and made the mistake of complaining that the legislature had not properly cared for the hospitals and insane asylums. The pamphlet laws for 1905 will show this to be a misstatement. The appropriations to state and charitable institutions were much higher this year than in the past.

Mr. Castle had something more to say about state deposits. He says that William H. Andrews, Arthur Keagedy and F. J. Torrance tried to secure loans from a bank in Pittsburgh and from one in Allegheny. "In one instance," said he, "the go-between was a member of the board of directors of one of the banks and in the other Mr. Torrance attempted to negotiate. Each bank was offered a deposit of $200,000, with the understanding the principals were to receive it back in loans to be guaranteed by railroad bonds. Both propositions were turned down."

Mr. Castle then told this story in which he tries to implicate State Treasurer Mathues. He says: "One of the members of the institutions which had turned down the big loans thought he would like to receive a deposit from the state which would be on the square. He wrote a letter to Treasurer Mathues asking for a state depogit. On June 3, 1904, he received a letter of which the following is a part:

Explanation Falls Short.

"I am of the opinion that there are too many depositors in the west and too much of the state funds deposited there, and at the present time I do not feel disposed to increase the same. If, however, I shall change my mind I will be pleased to take into consideration the bank you are interested in."

"The banker," he said, "was talking over his experience with another friend, who told him he did not go about securing the deposit in the right way. He said that yesterday the treasurer sent $300,000 of state money into the city. On November 4, 1904, the banker wrote to Mathues. He has never received a reply."

Mr. Castle did not explain what bank the $300,000 went to. There is what is known as an "active" state bank in Pittsburgh. It is the one on which many warrants are drawn and always carries a big balance subject to the check of the treasurer. In the way that he presented it, the Mathues letter does not prove his case.

Mr. Castle closed his speech with a bit of sarcasm for the Democrats. He said: "Lift your heads, brethren, to Zion. The atmosphere may be a little clear for you, but you will get used to it. Make it an honor instead of a dishonor to belong."

Berry stuck to his old theme. He again told his audience that his slating by the Democratic bosses was a providential act. This must be funny to Col. Guffey and "Jim" Hall, "Charlie" Donnelly, "Tommy" Ryan, "Billy" Brennen and even John Larkin.

INSURANCE COMPANY'S ASSETS HAVE SHRUNK

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—Inspector Lucius Pfouts of the state insurance department has finished his inspection of the books and accounts of the Western Life Indemnity Company. In the investigation Mr. Pfouts discovered a shrinkage in the assets of the company from $488,000 at the beginning of the year to a present total of $213,052.

Dr. Callen will receive a salary of $5,000 a year and Mr. Rogers $1,000 and parsonage a year.

DEMANDS BOOKS OF MORGAN FIRM

retorted that he was not, and that if Mr. Perkins would answer his question much better progress would be made with the investigation.

Earlier in the day Henry B. Winthrop of the Equitable, while on the stand, presented a statement of the transfers of the stock of the Equitable at the time of its change of management and the directorate. Most of the transfers Mr. Winthrop was able to explain, but some he was not. At the time of these transfers Mr. Winthrop was the holder of 25 shares. He thought the actual owner was James H. Hyde, as he turned the checks for dividends over to Mr. Hyde.

Will Soon Pay Loans.

Mr. Winthrop was again called to the stand just before adjournment. Mr. Buckner having given way, to explain a trustee account brought up earlier in the day. Mr. Winthrop presented a typewritten statement of the account and said the loans would be paid off in a few days and the collateral entered on the books of the company. Before Mr. Buckner retired, however, he was asked to produce a statement of the expenses of the Paris office, with a record of the real estate held there and the business that comes under that jurisdiction. Mr. Buckner had been questioned most of the afternoon on the foreign business and its cost to the home office.

The tilt between Mr. Perkins and Counsel Hughes over the matter of producing the books of J. P. Morgan & Co. arose when Mr. Perkins was asked to explain some of the Morgan firm's dealings with the New York Life Insurance Company in connection with the sale of navigation syndicate bonds to the life insurance company.

Hughes Wants the Books.

Mr. Perkins said he would furnish copies of the entries referring to the transactions in question, but preferred not to bring the books.

Mr. Hughes, for the first time during the investigation, showed signs of anger and said loudly:

"I shall have to require that these books be produced."

"All right," replied Mr. Perkins.

Testifying to the purchase of $1,000,000 of Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis bonds from J. P. Morgan & Co., by the New York Life Insurance Company, Mr. Perkins said he obtained the bonds at $46,000 less than the price stipulated by the life insurance company's finance committee. Questioned by Mr. Hughes Mr. Perkins said that in this purchase and sale he himself represented both the New York Life Insurance Company as purchaser and the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. as seller.

Mr. Perkins could not produce any record on the books of the New York Life Insurance Company of the agreement between J. P. Morgan & Co. and the life insurance company on this matter. In the discussion over this point Mr. Perkins said:

"If you do not trust my word Mr. Randolph, the treasurer, will support it."

In reply to further questions Mr. Perkins said there would be an entry in the books of J. P. Morgan & Co. according the agreement to deliver the bonds. Mr. Hughes again said he would like to see the books.

"No, sir; not the books, but a copy of entry," said Mr. Perkins.

"I want the books," thundered Mr. Hughes.

Total Dealings With Morgan.

Mr. Perkins testified regarding the dealings with J. P. Morgan & Co., that on December 31, 1904, the New York Life Insurance Company owned $20,974,700 of securities floated by J. P. Morgan & Co. or Drexel, Morgan & Co. The book value of these securities, witness said, was $20,507,505, and the market value on September 25, 1905, $23,899,164, showing an enhancement in value of $3,391,249. Of the total value of these securities owned by the New York Life, Mr. Perkins said about $3,000,000 have been bought since he has been chairman of the finance committee.

During the examination of Mr. Buckner it was disclosed that a life insurance agent who applies to another company for employment must have a pink card of introduction to be in good standing. This system was inaugurated by Mr. Buckner and was understood by Mr. Tarbell of the Equitable.

A statement of the expenses in all the foreign countries requested last week, was produced by Mr. Buckner. This showed for 1904 expenses to the home office of $362,121 with premiums returned to the amount of $22,187,671. For the first half of the year 1905, the expenses for business in foreign countries was $164,523 with premiums paid for $8,954,714.

The Equitable Transfer.

A statement showing the transfers of the stock of the Equitable Life Assurance society, which accompanied the purchase of control of that society by Thomas F. Ryan, was made by the society to the committee today. It showed that 50 shares of the stock purchased by Mr. Ryan from James H. Hyde stood in the names of at least 35 persons who were, or recently had been, directors of the society, each of them being the owner of at least five shares of the stock. By the the transfer of the stock to Grover Cleveland, Judge Morgan J. O'Brien and George Westinghouse a majority of the directors would have ceased to be stockholders of record.

It was deemed wise by the trustees and by counsel that a majority of the reorganized board of directors should be actual owners of five shares of stock each until the question of eligibility of policyholders as directors had been settled by the courts. Accordingly, an effort was made to purchase the necessary amount of stock. This resulted in the purchase of a block of 87 shares of stock for the aggregate price of $212,500 approximately $2,500 a share. The stock when purchased stood in the following names:

H. B. Winthrop, 27 shares; W. B. Bruner, 45 shares; C. L. Blair, 8 shares; A. J. Cassatt, 4 shares; James B. Forgan, 3 shares.

Mr. Ryan furnished the money for the purchase and the stock was at once offered to directors of the society at cost, with the result, the statement says, that the following directors have acquired five shares each of this block of stock:

George J. Gould, Levi P. Morton, Thomas T. Eckert, Valentine P. Snyder, F. W. Rhodbig, J. J. Albright, Eben B. Thomas, Joseph Bryan, Thomas Spratt, D. Cady Herrick, Nicholas Murray Butler and James B. Forgan.

The remaining 12 shares out of this block of 87 shares of stock stand in the name of Mr. Winthrop and are owned by Mr. Ryan. Five shares of stock were also purchased by President Paul Morton from M. E. Ingalls.

Since this statement was prepared Nicholas Murray Butler has declined to become a director of the society.

FALLS UNCONSCIOUS ON MOTHER'S GRAVE

Mrs. Virginia Brooks of Glenwood Is Found by Sexton in Dravosburg Cemetery.

As the result of visiting her mother's grave in Richland cemetery, Dravosburg, Mrs. Virginia Brooks, aged 58, of Glenwood, is in a precarious condition at the home of the sexton of the cemetery, and her recovery is in doubt. Mrs. Brooks went to the cemetery yesterday afternoon and asked the sexton to show her her mother's grave. After the sexton had pointed it out he left the visitor and at 7 o'clock last evening he passed that way and discovered her lying across the grave unconscious.

The sexton carried Mrs. Brooks to his home and called two physicians, who, after failing to revive her, advised she be taken to the McKeesport hospital. The physicians attended Mrs. Brooks all night, but up to midnight were unable to tell what was the matter, as she still remained unconscious.

Secretary of Amalgamated Window Glass Workers Explains Disagreement on Scale.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CLEVELAND, Sept. 28.—Secretary C. L. Tarr of the Amalgamated Window Glass Workers of America, referring today to the failure to reach an agreement at the wage conference held here between the representatives of his organization and those of the National Manufacturers' association, said:

"The first two meetings were devoted entirely to the discussion of whether in the event of an agreement being reached it would be binding on all or only a part. We insisted this point because H. B. Van Cleve of Cleveland was employing non-union labor, as was also C. P. Cole of Lancaster, O. We insisted any agreement entered into should be binding upon these two as well as the rest.

"In adhering to this we were not aiming a blow at L. A. 300. We were simply standing for union labor and union principles."

TEXAS FIEND MURDERS MOTHER AND CHILDREN

Baby Is Only One Left Alive Out of Five Occupants of House—Bodies Brutally Mutilated.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

EDNA, TEXAS, Sept. 2.—Mrs. A. J. Conditt and four children, a daughter of 13 and three boys from 6 to 10 years old, were murdered in cold blood at their home near here today.

The mother and daughter were assaulted and their bodies brutally disfigured. A baby about 2 years old was the only one left alive. The victims' heads were crushed and their throats cut.

Mr. Conditt was working in the rice fields when the crime was committed. The entire county is out in posses, and dogs have been sent for to track the murderers.

ALL WILL BE TRIED.

District Attorney Is Ready to Dispose of Allegheny Graft Cases.

Samuel C. Wilkinson, who is under indictment on a charge of embracery, will be placed on trial next Wednesday. Wilkinson is alleged to have tried to influence a juryman in the second trial of Capt. James Wilson of the Allegheny police. It is understood that Wilkinson's case will have an important bearing on other graft cases that are to follow his trial.

District Attorney Stewart says that immediately after Wilkinson's case is disposed of every one of the cases growing out of the graft investigation in Allegheny will be tried. Director Scandrett of the public safety department, is under indictment for extortion, and it is likely his case will be put well up on the court list. Several men who will be witnesses against Scandrett returned to the city several days ago after being out of the state since early in the summer. This is regarded as significant. Mal. Stewart declines to say which cases will be tried first but declares all the graft cases will be finished as quickly as possible.

HOLDS COUNTY DETECTIVE.

Coroner's Jury Find Him Responsible for the Death of a Youth.

County Detective Jerry Lutz of Braddock was held by a coroner's jury yesterday to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of killing Martin "Red" O'Donnell, who died at the McKeesport hospital from a rifle ball wound received on July 2 at Riverton. Lutz furnished $500 bail. O'Donnell, a youth, with others, it is alleged, tried to rob a grocery house at Riverton. O'Donnell tried to escape and it is alleged that he was shot by a rifle bullet fired by Detective Lutz. The ball struck him in the thigh, shattering the bone. He was removed to the hospital, where he died.

Smallpox Is Expensive.

Homestead borough has discovered that smallpox is an expensive luxury. Recently one case of the disease was found in a colored boarding house in which 40 people lived. As the borough is without a municipal hospital, it was necessary to quarantine the place and all the inmates. The precaution cost Homestead just $5.00, which is considered rather high for one lone case of smallpox.

MEANS NEW ERA FOR MOROCCANS

Franco-German Terms of Accord Are Signed at Paris, Terminating Negotiations.

GIVE GENERAL SATISFACTION

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

PARIS, Sept. 28.—Premier Rouvier and Prince Von Radolin, the German ambassador, today signed the Franco-German accord concerning the Moroccan conference, thus definitely terminating the difficult negotiations. The official text of the accord as given out says:

The negotiations between France and Germany concerning the program for the conference on Moroccan affairs has successfully terminated. Accord is reached upon a program comprising the consolidation of the police, the regulation and supervision of contraband arms, financial reforms, comprising principally of the organization of a state's bank and also the best means of collecting duties, and the creation of new means of revenue and also the determination of principles destined to safeguard the economic liberty of Morocco.

The agreement thus makes a special preservation of the frontier region between Algiers and Morocco, where the maintenance of police will be regulated directly between France and the sultan without submission to the conference. The regulation of Tangiers in the same region also remains for France to determine with the sultan. The two governments unite in asking that Spain accept Algeciras as the place for the conference.

Upon the question of the recent German loan to Morocco it is agreed that French bankers shall participate with the Germans and there is to be a similar participation of French firms in building the harbor works at Tangier. A French company obtains terms equal to those of the German contractors.

Finally the accord provides for the submission of the program without delay to the sultan and the signatories of the convention at Madrid. Upon the submission to the sultan both the French and German missions now at Fez will return to Tangier.

The accord signed today aroused the keenest satisfaction, not only on account of Morocco, but chiefly because it terminates the protracted crisis which threatened to disturb the peace of Europe. Both the foreign office and the German embassy were equally gratified to close the controversy.

The final formalities brought out an exchange of cordial felicitations between Premier Rouvier and Ambassador Radolin and the plenipotentiaries, Dr. Rosen and M. Revoil. The accord is interpreted as a compromise in which each side secures advantages. Chancellor Von Buelow's proposition to submit Moroccan questions to a conference is finally realized, and M. Rouvier has carried his point of keeping France's special interests from the conference and restricting the remaining questions within the exact limits. The diplomats consider the result highly advantageous in removing obstacles to a rapprochement between France and Germany. Commenting on this view the semi-official Temps this evening says:

"France does not want an alliance outside of that with Russia, but she is none the less ready to welcome closer relations with other nations. Germany's conciliatory attitude and final concession of a number of contested points is attributed to a desire to promote a better feeling with France and Russia, thus counteracting on the continent the advantages which Great Britain gains through her new alliance with Japan."

M'LEAN DOESN'T KNOW ABOUT GIVING UP MONEY

Cincinnati Editor Hesitates When Asked to Help Out the Ohio Democracy.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—"Joe" Dowling of Dayton, O., who came here to induce John R. McLean of Washington and Cincinnati, to take a part in the Ohio campaign by dumping a substantial contribution into the Democratic fund, met with little encouragement today. McLean granted Dowling an extended audience, at the conclusion of which the Cincinnati editor and millionaire asked for further time to consider the matter.

It appears that Mr. McLean does not enthuse over the prospect of putting his shoulder to the wheel in a fight in which his arch enemy, Mayor Tom L. Johnson of Cleveland is recognized as the boss. Memories of the treatment that he received from the Johnson faction when he was the Democratic candidate for governor still linger in the mind of the Cincinnati editor.

Aside from this, the Dayton leader was not disposed to assure McLean that there is any assurance of Democratic success this fall. While Dowling was able to report that Republicans in sympathy with the Anti-Saloon league will not vote for Herrick, he was forced to admit that Pattison would not be able to poll the entire strength of the Democratic party in Ohio. Without the support of McLean and his faction the prospect of a Democratic victory in Ohio this fall is not regarded as promising by the most hopeful in the Democratic camp.

EDITORS CLOSE WITH FLOURISH

After Seeing Greater Pittsburgh and Big Mills They Are Guests at Reception.

PRESS CLUB IN AT THE FINISH

"All starts will be made promptly."

With this announcement the members of the Pennsylvania State Editorial association came here to meet in convention and see the wonderful sights of Pittsburgh and her surrounding towns. The convention and sight-seeing trips did start promptly, but at no time and nowhere were the 350 delegates given such a prompt start and good time as at the opening of the new building of the Dispatch in Fifth avenue. The reception was joined in by the ladies of the convention and everybody, delegates and visitors, had a good time.

After the building was thoroughly inspected and everyone had something good to eat and drink, there was dancing for the younger people present, while the men of the convention with their wives and friends held a reception. The reception was on the third floor, the dancing was in the front of the fourth floor, while in the center a brass band furnished music and lunch was served in the rear.

The six floors of the building were crowded until 10 o'clock, when the visitors began to depart. Several thousand people attended the opening of the building and enjoyed themselves. Among the crowd there was quite a number of prominent business and professional men and members of the ministry. The big fun before 11:30 p. m. was on the sixth floor, where the entertainment for men was dispensed.

"Night in Bohemia."

After the ladies and the friends of the delegates and visitors had retired the building was turned over to the Pittsburgh Press club for a "Night in Bohemia." The stunts in Bonemia "started promptly" and the delegates of the convention and guests of the Press club had a lively time till the "gray dawn of the day after" called the entertainers and joyous crowd back to real life.

Lunch and refreshments were served and members of theatrical companies playing at the local theaters this week lent a hand to make the night a merry one. The building was christened and every one who was present during the evening and after "30" enjoyed themselves.

Previous to the night reception the ladies of the convention, through the courtesy of McCreery & Co., were given the freedom of the big Wood street store, after closing hours. The handsome store building was viewed from top to bottom and then the ladies were the guests of McCreery & Co. at luncheon, which was served in the big dining room of the store. The individual dining tables were placed together and decorated with pretty white linen and gladiolas. Carnations were presented to each guest. The luncheon was in charge of James T. Garber, who has charge of McCreery & Co.'s dining room.

Ladies Are Guests of McCreery's.

The luncheon was prepared in the kitchen of the big store and served by rator of the house, and the dining room to the 165 ladies present. The decorations of the room were in charge of the decorator of the house, and the dining room under the house decorator's skill, was converted into one of the prettiest banquet halls to be seen in Pittsburgh. The luncheon began at 6 p. m. and was over in time for the ladies to attend the night reception. Music was furnished by the Nixon theater orchestra, R. L. Faeder, director.

During the day the delegates and ladies of the convention spent the hours sightseeing in and about Pittsburgh and many of the big plants were visited and side trips were taken. At 9:30 a. m. a special train went out from Union station with about 400 people. An hour was spent seeing the H. J. Heinz Co. plant in Allegheny. From there the party was taken to the plant of the Pittsburgh Provision Company, and then to the Union stock yards on Herrs island. Luncheon was served at the plant of the Westinghouse company in East Pittsburgh and two hours were consumed in looking over the plant of the Westinghouse Manufacturing & Machine Company.

The party was then taken to the South Side, where the new building of the Pittsburgh Terminal Warehouse Company were inspected. The trip was made over the four railroads of the Pennsylvania system, the start being made over the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis railroad.

See Big Industrial Plants.

Later the train was sent over the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago railroad and then the special was switched to the West Penn division. On the return trip the special ran by way of the Pittsburgh division of the Pennsylvania, the Monongahela division and back to the starting point.

Those who were on the trip were given an opportunity to see the great territory included in Greater Pittsburgh and a better chance to see its gigantic industries than any trip ever tendered to a visiting delegation. In several cases the editors and their wives were taken by the special through the very heart of the big industrial plants and had a better opportunity to inspect the railroads and plants than they could have otherwise.

By noon the party had reached Homestead, but it was 5 p. m. before the train returned with the party to the Union station. The editors and their wives were delighted with the trip through the Pittsburgh district and most of them were astonished at the great magnitude of the industrial plants they had visited.

The entertainment of the editors and their wives was in charge of the Merchants & Manufacturers' association of Pittsburgh, whose guests the delegates were and before the convention adjourned the delegates passed a resolution of thanks for the entertainment extended them while they were in Pittsburgh.

Many of the delegates will leave the city for home today and by this evening a majority of them will have departed. The delegates are so pleased with their visit to Pittsburgh that many of them declared the convention was the best ever held by the association.

WANT A MONUMENT.

Eighth Pennsylvania Reserves Effect a Permanent Organization.

Twenty-three members of the Eighth Pennsylvania Reserves met last night in the Seventh Avenue hotel and formed a permanent organization, the primary object of which is to secure the regimental monument on the battlefield of Antietam. Gen. John A. Wiley of Franklin presided and was elected president of the organization. The other officers elected were: Vice president, Daniel McWilliams; treasurer, Edward Able, and secretary, J. W. Eberhart of 14 East Stockton avenue, Allegheny, to whom members of the old regiment are asked to send their addresses.

John A. Diebold, Daniel McWilliams and John Steel were appointed a committee to act with the state commissioner, who are to visit the battlefield to locate the positions of the regiments engaged there and entitled to monuments which the state is to erect at a cost of $2,500 each and for which the legislature made an appropriation and appointed a commission to see to their erection.

SAY CHECKS ARE WORTHLESS.

Alleged Doctor Is in Jail Charged With False Pretense.

Two charges of false pretense have been preferred against George W. Allen, one before Alderman Abernathy by Homer M. Lane, proprietor of the Lane hotel, and the other before Alderman Anderson by H. C. Lane of North St. Clair street, Allegheny. He is in jail awaiting court trial on both charges.

Allen is said to have represented himself to be a doctor connected with the Keystone Sulphur Specialty Company. Last week he went to the Hotel Lane and engaged a room for himself and wife. Lane asked him to pay in advance, so he gave him a check for $25 on the Federal National bank. Later, it is alleged, he had Lane cash him two checks for $5 each, and had no account at the bank. It is alleged Lucas cashed a $10 check for him, which also proved to be worthless.

HENRY HORNBOSTEL WILL BE PROFESSOR AT "TECH"

Distinguished New York Architect Sacrifices Brilliant Financial Prospects to Accept Architectural Practice Chair in the Carnegie Schools.

Henry Hornbostel.

Sacrificing dazzling financial prospects, Henry Hornbostel has accepted the appointment of professor of architectural practice in the Carnegie Technical schools. The announcement was made officially late yesterday afternoon and ranks with the most important that have been or will be made in the formation of the teaching staff of the big Pittsburgh institution.

Ranking already, though still a young man, as one of the foremost architects of the United States, Mr. Hornbostel is leaving New York to accept the Pittsburgh position for the reason that the schools of which he is now the architect propose to open a field of education in which he is deeply interested. For three years he was instructor in architecture at Columbia university, New York, and for the past two years he has been patron of an "atelier," known as "Atelier Hornbostel" in New York city.

Mr. Hornbostel's work as professor will be in the school of applied science, and will be day work, but in addition he will be the patron of an "atelier," or studio, to be established in connection with the night classes.

Mr. Hornbostel first came prominently into Pittsburgh notice through his winning the competition for the design of the Carnegie Technical schools. A week ago he won another large Pittsburgh contract in the competition for the new Jewish temple to be erected in Squirrel Hill. He was born in Brooklyn and was graduated from the school of mines at Columbia, receiving the degree of Ph. B. in 1891. He took a course also at the New York Trade school. In 1894 he entered the Ecole de Beaux Arts in Paris and studied for three years under Leon Genain. He returned to New York and formed a partnership with George C. Palmer. He was architect for New York city for the bridges over the East river. In the University of California competition he received the highest award of any American architect, his work being under the firm name of Howells, Stokes & Hornbostel. He has won numerous competitions and has done much public work in New York.

Mr. Hornbostel is a member of the American Institute of Architects, the Architectural League of America and the Beaux Arts society. It is expected that his enthusiasm and genius will leave a permanent impress upon his students here and will arouse inspiration for good architecture and sound building construction which will leave a permanent impress upon their future careers.

SAVES THREE FROM DEATH.

Munhall Workman Carries Walter Newby, Wife and Child, All Unconscious, from Burning Building.

William Skelton of Munhall saved three persons from death by fire at an early hour yesterday morning. Skelton was preparing to go to work when he saw fire in an upstairs room in the home of Walter Newby, across the street. He ran over and knocked. Receiving no reply he broke in the door and found that Mr. and Mrs. Newby and their little child were overcome by smoke.

Failing to arouse them he carried Mrs. Newby, then the child and later Mr. Newby out, and laid them on the ground. The frame house, with its contents, was destroyed, with a loss of about $1,500, partly insured. The family was soon revived.

NO OFFER IS MADE TO BUY SOUTH SIDE WATER PLANT

Director Bigelow's bluff to get votes for the Fifth avenue hump project by making South Siders believe the administration was in favor of bringing the Monongahela water monopoly to an end, was shown up yesterday. The directors of the company met and declared a modest quarterly dividend of 2 per cent, payable on October 10. An informal discussion on the talk of the city buying the plant developed the fact that the city has made no move; that the committee appointed with such a flourish of trumpets has done nothing.

Improves Fire Fighting Service.

The committee on public safety of Allegheny councils last night recommended affirmatively ordinances authorizing the transfer of $13,640 from the contingent fund to the appropriation for the bureau of fire, to cover the cost of a new hook and ladder truck at No. 11 engine house and installing new hook and ladder trucks at Nos 10 and 12 engine houses; also an ordinance requiring railroad companies whose tracks traverse the streets of the city at or near the grades of the streets, to erect suitable steel or iron fances so as to protect the lives and limbs of those who travel the streets.

SOUTH SCHOOL HAS FIRST GRADUATION

Pupils Get Diplomas and Enter High School from Second Ward. Some Interesting Talks.

Members of the graduating class of the South sub-district school, Second ward, and their friends gathered last night in the lecture room of the Fourth Avenue Baptist church to participate in the first annual commencement exercises.

The Rev. Dr. Warren G. Partridge, pastor of the church, opened the exercises with prayer. Samuel Andrews, principal of the Pittsburgh schools, addressed the class and audience and spoke entertainingly on the history of the South school. He said the South sub-district was the pioneer common school district of the city. It elected its first board of directors in 1835 and since that time has made an excellent record.

The Rev. S. Edward Young of the Second Presbyterian church made a short address and was followed by Rabbi J. Leonard Levy.

Prof. Edward Rynearson, director of the high school, urged the parents of all pupils to co-operate with the teachers in the training of the young. Dr. Knox of the California state normal school, spoke briefly. Miss Christine Miller rendered several vocal solos as did Miss Reis and Miss McKelvie. James and John McKelvie contributed to the musical program. Miss America Sala accompanied on the piano. Those who graduated from the high school were Nathan Goldstein, Samuel Price, Winifred Browne, Georgia Geary, Fannie McCurdy, Margaret Porter, Lillie Handmacher, Sadie Caplan, Julia Price, Isadore Bernstein, Earl Brickland, Pearl Maier, Edna Gerling, Hyman Greenwald, Harry Mottsman, Louis Canter, Rosie Levin.

SOME USED PIANOS

One of the best ways to save money is to buy goods for less than their actual worth.

Thrifty people who find piano buying a necessity this fall will have a chance to practice economy here that is not offered frequently.

Every used piano on this list is worth much more than we ask for it. But with the crowding incident to the alterations now going on, we are compelled to move stock more rapidly than would ordinarily be necessary. It's your chance to profit at our expense. We'll be glad to show any of the following pianos, even if you don't buy.

Used Upright Pianos

All in good condition. Stool and scarf included. Monthly payments if desired.

$300 C. H. Stone, now	$ 98	$325 Sterling, now	$140

Darning Stockings With the Sewing Machine.

You don't believe it? Well, we don't wonder. But if you will come to our Basement we will introduce you to a lady operating an ordinary sewing machine, and if you want you can bring a stocking with a considerable sized hole in it along with you—she will darn it in a jiffy.

Like everything that looks difficult, when understood, it is the easiest thing imaginable.

And a woman invented it!

The trick or the darning, is all done with the attachment.

The mother of a Rooseveltian family will rise up and call the inventor of this little device blessed.

Not expensive by any means.

An Iceless Refrigerator—Inexpensive.

It fits in the window, or, rather, it is placed just outside the window, hung like a shutter on one side—can be lifted off to be cleaned or swung out of the way without removing when the windows need cleaning.

To get at contents simply raise the window and drop the refrigerator—no stooping.

Milk, butter, meat, everything keeps perfectly in it. Special construction makes it water-tight—let it rain ever so hard, you'll find the inside of this refrigerator dry. And it is wonderfully clean.

A splendid thing for a small household, a first-class nursery refrigerator.

See it in our Housefurnishing Department, West Basement.

Cheering information is contained in the statement of Secretary James Wilson regarding lower prices for meat the coming winter. Bumper crops of grain are responsible, of course, for this most gratifying condition. In no other country in the world, not excepting England, is meat the staple article of diet it is in the United States, and the reduction from what have been abnormally high prices will be most gratefully received.

It was a busy day for bank burglars and securities thieves yesterday. It is one of the remarkable idiosyncrasies of crime that burglary of the first magnitude is usually committed in the autumn. There may be no theory to account for the fact, but the fact itself should prompt bankers, postmasters and agents of the law to take extra precautions at this season. There are reasons why the smarter burglars choose this time of year in preference to other seasons for their operations.

Montgomery, Ala., made a not altogether pleasant exhibition of itself yesterday, through its acting mayor and city council. After inviting President Roosevelt to visit the city October 23, the council has failed to make an appropriation for entertainment, because the president will stay longer at Booker Washington's Tuskeegee institute. Montgomery can rest easy, however. Mr. Roosevelt pays his own expenses and will be glad to see the citizens who desire to see him without money or price.

France and Germany have at last signed the protocol providing for an international conference on Morocco. The questions to be considered are fully set forth and the invitations to the conference may now be issued. Great Britain and Russia have signified their willingness to attend. Either the Moroccan question is near to peaceful solution or the opportunity is approaching for an international snarl of proportions wholly out of comparison with the size or importance of Morocco.

Capt. John C. Groome, who has just returned from Ireland, where he inspected the Royal constabulary, gaining many valuable ideas, declares Pennsylvania is to have a state police second to none. The constabulary of the Emerald Isle is a fine body of men, as Capt. Groome has discovered, for they are men of character as well as muscle. From the 1,500 applications already filed, an equally fine body of men should be selected within the next two months, the period in which it is expected the Pennsylvania constabulary will be recruited, organized and equipped for business.

Consular reports contain glowing accounts of results attendant on "free breakfasts" furnished school children by "municipal lunch rooms" in Norway and Germany. The reports are interesting as showing what has been accomplished in poverty-stricken communities, but we do not believe there is necessity for the extension of the idea to this country. There are other organizations in our cities which provide relief for deserving cases. Somehow or other, the municipal free lunch does not savor of that sturdy Americanism and spirit of independence which should be a part of every school curriculum.

Henry Hornbostel has accepted a chair in the new Carnegie Technical schools that is in the nature of a great personal sacrifice. Mr. Hornbostel is the architect of the group of buildings, one of the most successful men in his profession. He must, perforce, give up the rewards of that success to become an instructor of others. When Attorney James B. Dill recently made a similar sacrifice the act was widely noted. There are persons who argue the nation is money mad. These cases give flat denial. There are many able men who are continually putting duty before personal profit; who have more care for the body politic and posterity than for themselves.

M. Witte's statement on his arrival in St. Petersburg that "all classes of American society, from President Roosevelt down, were in sympathy with my and your cause," is not surprising in its departure from strict accuracy in view of that gentleman's statement in other cities since his landing in Europe. While the negotiations were proceeding at Portsmouth the people of this country were undoubtedly strongly desirous that peace should be concluded, but there was certainly no predominance of pro-Russian sentiment. It was natural that M. Witte should wish to tell St. Petersburg what he did. It is also natural for the people of this country to desire a correct representation of their feeling in the matter.

It Is to Laugh.

It is reported on good authority the Citizens bosses have agreed to deliver to the Democratic candidate for state treasurer 5,000 votes through the payroll. This in lieu of the indorsement of that candidate demanded by Col. Guffey. It is to laugh. If Berry gets a total of 5,000 votes in this county, which he ought, there will be no way to prove they were not delivered according to agreement.

W. S. Guffey, always a Democrat, has pointedly expressed his opinion of the situation and of the professed Democrats who have brought it about. Mr. Guffey has a pretty clear conception of the unholy alliance for spoils alone, but makes no allowance for the original agreement existing between the parties. Again, it is to laugh. The public has been given an exhibition of Democrats working and pleading against their state candidate for the possibility of a few local offices, and of Citizens agreeing to deliver votes to the Democratic state ticket as a consideration for being allowed to make an open pretense of Republicanism. It is to laugh.

A disagreement and separation of the fusionists would hardly have been more certainly fatal to the prospects of the fusion candidates than this expose of the motives animating these alleged "reform" forces. Actions speak louder than words and by their acts they have shouted to the people: We have principles, but we care for nothing except the spoils.

In this situation the public is apt to quote the poet: "A plague on both your houses." And the plague will fall on them. It will wipe out thousands from both the Democratic and Citizens camps in November and neither is in position to afford the loss of hundreds. As The Gazette said in the beginning, the demand of Col. Guffey was unreasonable and illogical. It was prompted by desperation, however, for he knew Berry would need the votes. The refusal of Boss Bigelow was logical. The attitude of the Democrats who sided with Bigelow was merely mercenary, including the organs, and the exhibition has been so rank it has done the local fusion ticket more harm than a Citizens indorsement would have done Berry good. It is no affair of The Gazette, but as the French say, it is to laugh.

Mr. Olney's Plea.

Grover Cleveland's former attorney general, Richard Olney, has made a contribution to the literature of railroad rate-making that is described in the news dispatch as a reply to William J. Bryan's open letter. Mr. Olney's magazine article is more than that. It is an attorney's careful plea against extending the national control into the field of rate-making. The paper is written in the spirit in which Mr. Olney administered the department of justice during his term—that of permitting the railroads and corporate combinations to have their own way, while his party's organs and orators made of their abuses political thunder.

Mr. Olney presents his case skillfully, but not soundly. The argument has the marks of special pleading. The people have never approved Mr. Olney's administration of the department of justice and they will continue in adherence to President Roosevelt's better policy, as illustrated in his demand for rate legislation and in the conduct of the department of justice by Philander C. Knox and Attorney General Moody.

It is a fallacy to argue that determination of a reasonable rate by inquiry, subject to judicial revision, is political rate-making. It is simply the exercise of a proper government function. It is idle to hold this legislation to be an advance toward government ownership. It is rather a measure to stay the growing sentiment for this socialistic solution by the application of rational control without interference with private enterprise.

Strenuous Mr. Cleveland.

The question, "What shall we do with our ex-presidents?" which was discussed so freely a few years ago, is no longer raised. The country seems to have come to the conclusion that we can do nothing with them. They are not subject to public control. There is only one of them in the land of the living at present, and he is very much alive. The Hon. Grover Cleveland, since retiring to the scholastic shades of Princeton, has not been idle. In fact, the phrase "pernicious activity," of which he is the accredited author, has been applied to his manifestations of energy by a large number of women with whom he is in exceeding disfavor. It is not so long since Mr. Cleveland wrote an article for a woman's magazine on the subject of women's clubs which brought a tempest about his ears. Now he has written another to condemn woman suffrage as "unwise and dangerous." In ponderous and platitudinous phrase the nation is warned of rocks ahead for the ship of state if women are permitted to be members of the crew. Mr. Cleveland fears they may even aspire to the jobs of boatswain's mate or captain. And then where shall we be?

We do not know what subject for stirring up trouble the Sage of Princeton is now considering, but the announcement that a delegation of woman suffragists will shortly call upon him, to protest against his recent course of conduct, should have a deterrent effect. We should not care to be in Mr. Cleveland's shoes just now, even if they would fit us. Uneasy lies the head that wears the ex-president's halo. When Mr. Cleveland retires to rest at night he carries with him the disturbing thought that, in the opinion of over half a million American women, he is "a mean old thing." One of these fine mornings, awakening after a night of troubled sleep, he will see from the window a front yard full of indignant women. It is one thing to sit comfortably in the White House and administer the affairs of a nation with "congress on one's hands." It is another thing to try to explain matters to a couple of thousand of angry women who are all talking at once. If we were Mr. Cleveland we should write only on the tariff or bass fishing or some such subject. Articles with a boomerang attachment make life too strenuous.

The World Language.

German philologists are again bothering their brains to concoct a universal language which shall nullify the effects of the unfortunate episode at the Tower of Babel. Since the failure of "Volapuk" some years ago, nobody has attempted arbitrarily to construct a language for all peoples. Now the scholars of the fatherland are once more exercising their ingenuity on the subject.

Since no language with an arbitrary vocabulary, especially the product of erudite scholarship, can ever hope to win popular approval, it is suggested that golf, the world-wide game, may supply the long-existent deficiency. The manner in which the game has spread to the four quarters of the globe, during the last decade, is without precedent in the history of any other sport. Starting in Scotland, the golf microbe traveled rapidly southward to England, leaped across to Ireland and thence to this country. The sun never sets upon golf. One may travel around the world and play the royal game at every stopping place. Golf is not only a good all-the-year-round game, but an all-round-the-world game, and it is this universality which will soon make a knowledge of golf a part of every liberal education. Golf boasts wealth of vocabulary familiar already to hundreds of thousands of persons in every corner of the civilized world. It possesses a variety of phrases, mild, medium and strong, adapted for almost every condition and emergency of life. It possesses even the beauty of the dead languages, for to the uninitiated golf sounds like Greek. Here is a hint worth considering by the verbal sharps. Instead of inventing a new world language, why not utilize the one we have?

Allegheny Cases Again.

Next week the Allegheny graft cases are to be taken up in criminal court again. The first on the list will probably be that against an alleged "jury fixer." Others will follow, of greater or less importance. Surveillance of the juries should have a good effect in preventing further interference of that sort and secure for all of the defendants the fair trial contemplated by our system of jurisprudence.

Much public interest centers in these cases. Conditions in Allegheny have become so notorious the city is being daily injured. It is entitled to a thorough cleaning out and a restoration of its good name. If conditions have been as bad as painted there ought to be many convictions; if not the fact will be developed in the proceedings. Undoubtedly conditions in Allegheny have been bad; vice has been prevalent and there has been a complete failure on the part of the constituted authorities to suppress it. The natural explanation is graft. That is worse than utter incompetence, which is the alternative explanation, but in either case the good people of Allegheny are entitled to a new order of things.

The Republicans of New York City have concluded to nominate a straight-out Republican ticket instead of fusing with other interests. Even successful fusion rarely means anything else than confusion.

Simply because she painted a single house, a western girl has got her picture in the papers, while a man can paint a whole town and only get two lines in the police report.

Europe is astonished by some bold thieves who stole the pavement of a street in Budapest. That's nothing. Tammany often steals a whole town.

Newspapers nowadays might just about as well keep the word "Graft" standing in type in big letters. Every day there comes along an item to fit it.

The impression pervades the country that when it comes to the Philippines Secretary Taft knows just what he is talking about.

Mr. Bryan's long sea voyages will give him plenty of leisure for the preparation of impromptu responses to addresses of welcome.

The naming of a Texas town "Damsite" indicates that a little tainted language goes with the postoffice department.

Hall Caine says he would rather be a really great writer than president. And he can never be either.

Democracy in Allegheny.

The Hon. R. W. Irwin of Washington, Pa., hit the nail just where a hit was needed when he declared there was no Democratic party in Allegheny county, and that in the matter of refereeing an election contest an Allegheny county judge would not know a Democrat rule if he should see one. Right, Robert, right! The Democratic party in Allegheny county is a disgrace. It has sold its birthright for a mess of fusion pottage, much of which has gone to stop the clamorous hunger of the Barr bunch.—Uniontown Genius of Liberty.

BAKU, BLACK CITY, RUSSIAN OIL CENTER

Its Strange People and Its Valuable Oil Fields—Where Civil War Rages.

Civil war in its worst form has raged for the past week in Baku and the oil field districts of Southern Russia. Baku is a rich, but an ugly, city, and those who have been there and studied the character of the people express no surprise at the present outbreaks. The devastation wrought is really due to the hatred of Tartar and Armenian for each other, and the inability of the government to grapple with a serious uprising. Religious and racial animosity are at the bottom of the ghastly business. The Armenians lay claim to superior commercial ability over the Tartars and Moslem and Christian have long been in violent but veiled conflict. The riches of Baku (which has been styled the Johannesburg of Russia) have attracted men of many nationalities—in fact, it is said that a representative of almost every race in either Europe or Asia can be found in the town. The major portion of the population consists of Persians and Tartars, who are united in the common bond of the Moslem religion. The official positions are in the hands of Russians and for the rest the population is decidedly mixed, Great Britain contributing about 100 to the total, and many of these have been in imminent peril at the hands of the infuriated populace. It is estimated that nearly £10,000,000 of British capital is invested in the Baku oil fields, and the damage occasioned must necessarily entail loss to British investors.

Smoky, Evil-Smelling Town.

Baku is a town of flat-roofed houses, and is typically Asiatic; but here and there big barracks-like buildings and the orthodox cathedral, with its gilded cupola, indicate the dominion of the czar. On approach, the town has a dismal appearance, being enveloped in dense black smoke, whilst on entry one is nauseated by the smell of oil which hangs heavy on the air. This oily smell is all-pervading. The visitor can no more escape it than he can cease to breathe and live. The old Persian citadel is still standing in the middle of the town and near by a double brick tower, known as the Maiden's Tower, rises to a height of over 150 feet. There is an old legend in regard to this tower, which says that once a Tartar khan and his son were both in love with the same girl, and as they were unable to agree which should marry her, they ended the difficulty and the girl at the same time by hurling her down from the topmost reaches of the tower. The oil refineries are situated on the north side of the town, in a place known as Blacktown, and here the oil is brought in pipes or in barges, and is stored in vast reservoirs.

Behind the Scenes.

The modern portion of Baku is composed of large tenement houses which stand in narrow and dirty streets. In the center is the old walled Tartar city, intersected by winding alleys with curious windowless houses. Here the Tartar merchants spread their wares on the pavement before the shops, playing with beads in the interval of business, and arguing for hours over the price of some trumpery article. The soil in and around Baku is barren and uncultable for cultivation, but near the southern wall a garden has been laid out—the only garden that Baku boasts. It is with the utmost difficulty that anything can be got to grow; but poor as it is, this little garden is like an oasis in a desert of smoke and oil stench, and is the rendezvous of the fashionable folks of the town, who, in times of peace, delight to meet to discuss scandal and talk over the doings of the day. But even here, as elsewhere, black dust covers everything. In some of the roads this dust lies over a foot in depth, whilst in places water and escaping oily waste turn the roadway into a filthy morass.

Valley Flowing With Oil.

In the valley of Bibi Eibat is to be found the most prolific oil field in the world for its size. Here the smell of oil overhangs everything, and all over the valley are dotted innumerable derricks. This oil field is only a mile and a half in extent; but some idea of the richness of the locality in oil will be gathered when it is stated that a single plot of 27 acres has yielded as much oil as would fill a lake of the same area to a depth of 250 feet. It is, however, on the north and east of the town that the bulk of the oil wells are situated, and at Balakhany, where the fiercest fighting has taken place. Between 20,000 and 30,000 workmen are employed about the wells, Armenians, Persians and Tartars predominating. The first-named are in the best positions, the Persians and Tartars being mostly laborers. As a rule they are quiet enough, but among them there is a number of warlike tribesmen from the mountains—men with plenty of brains—but hot-tempered and revengeful. Many of these men have never been subjugated to Russian rule, and it is believed that they have had a prominent hand in the present outrages. The situation is a difficult one, as the Tartars have had their religious feelings roused and believe that they are fighting for freedom from their Christian oppressor. The Armenians are struggling for autonomy of government, and their hatred of the Russian is only equalled by their bitter antipathy to the Moslem.—Manchester (Eng.) Times.

CAPT. DOOLEY HAS COMPLETE CHARGE

Pool Room Proprietors Receive Orders to Shut Up and Remain Closed.

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—The Tenderloin received its second jolt within a week from the new police regime this afternoon, and, incidentally, Inspector Max Schmittberger gave Capt. Robert Dooley for the first time absolute charge of the proceedings. All the poolroom proprietors received a peremptory order to close up shop or suffer the same fate which befell six women who were arrested last night for failing to obey a like edict. They were arrested. "You have the chance," said Schmittberger, "to make a name for yourself and stand in line for promotion, or prove a dismal failure. It's up to you. I have made you acquainted with the ropes, and I think you can clean up your precinct. Time will tell."

In commenting on the program the inspector said: "I have turned everything over to Dooley now. He has my men and his orders. I don't expect any arrests, but it is certain that the poolroom men will learn in no uncertain way that it is decreed that they must quit. If Dooley is the man I believe he is, his precinct will be a much cleaner place in a week. I don't believe in arguing with any poolroom proprietor or other kind of lawbreaker. Dooley knows that I want him to go ahead and ignore all threats of injunctions. He knows the men who are breaking the law, and need have no fear in the performance of his duty."

"Little Tim" as a Moralist.

Whether or not "startling" theatrical posters should adorn fences, ash barrels, dead walls and other convenient surfaces, will be the subject of a hearing which the committee on laws and legislation of the board of aldermen announces for Monday at 1 o'clock in the city hall. An ordinance "to promote public morality in the city of New York" has been introduced in the board and referred to this committee. "Little Tim" Sullivan is responsible for the ordinance, which will be opposed by several theatrical managers. The police commissioner is given power to exclude all "indecent, immoral, immodest, vulgar or suggestive" placards, bills or posters which are "calculated to debauch the public or shock the sense of decency or propriety."

Republicans Seek Candidate for Mayor.

Having scuttled the fusion ship, the Republicans are now at work trying to get a Republican of standing to run for mayor on the Republican ticket, which will be named at the city convention on October 6. Louis Stern, a well-known merchant, is looked upon with most favor by the leaders today, but he is in Europe and is not expected back till after the city convention. The man who could command the most support probably is Timothy L. Woodruff of Brooklyn, former lieutenant governor. Mr. Woodruff can have the nomination if he will take it, but he said today that his business engagements would absolutely prevent his consideration of the matter.

Ride in Jaunting Car Is Popular.

The jaunting car of the Irish exposition at Madison Square Garden continues to be a popular feature at the show. Perhaps there is nothing in the exposition which more emphatically marks Irish industrial development than these jaunting cars. They are not the jaunting cars of story books and tradition, but up-to-date vehicles, as finely made and finished as the carriages of any other nation. Riding around in them has become a fad. Some Pertinent Reflections.

One of the semi-Republican papers in Philadelphia that is supporting Berry declares that the election this year in Pennsylvania is devoid of any real significance whatever in a national sense, and no fair or plausible argument can represent it in that light. True enough, we are only electing state officers who will have no participation in national affairs, but every candid man will admit that a Democratic triumph in Pennsylvania would be hailed from ocean to ocean as a repudiation of the administration at Washington and it would renew the hopes of Democracy in every state in the union. Republicans should seriously ponder over this before they talk about voting for Democratic candidates for state offices.—Altoona Gazette.

SOME GOOD STORIES OF PITH AND MOMENT

Gossipy Chat and Anecdote of Entertaining and Instructive Character.

The late Patrick Collins, Boston's mayor, had an exceedingly ready wit. "There was a noted Universalist minister, Rev. A. A. Miner, who was an extreme believer in prohibition and who gave his whole time to propounding the view that a prohibitory law would do wonderful things for Massachusetts. At one of the many legislative hearings at the capitol Mr. Miner and Gen. Collins had a very pleading but lively colloquy over this proposed legislation, the demonte being in deadly earnest and Collins jocose. Finally, pointing to the temperance advocate, Collins said: 'I honor Dr. Miner, and, my friend, what a good man he would be if he would only let whisky alone.'"

Drank Wine on Tick.

Charles Mathews, one day very close to the period of his publicly announced dire bankruptcy, invited a friend to dine with him. The waiters were washed down by some rare sherry. "That's a delicious wine," his friend exclaimed; "it must have cost you a lot of money." "It didn't cost me anything that I know of," the flighty comedian answered, with a shrug. "You had it given to you, then?" the friend suggested. "Oh, no," shuddered Mathews, "I bought it from Ellis in Bond street." "But he will charge you something for it," the friend exclaimed in astonishment. "I believe he does write something down in a book," Charles retorted gravely; "let's have another glass, my boy."—Cleveland Leader.

It is not generally known, but it is a fact all the same that Braymer is the home of a man who captured Col. Henry Watterson, the famous editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal. Dr. E. L. Pye is the man, and the incident happened in Dixie during the civil war. Watterson was then a dashing young confederate officer. The doctor, a union soldier, with three fellow cavalrymen, was out scouting, and learned that a confederate officer was at a certain place. The place was surrounded and the young man, who proved to be Watterson, captured. He was taken to camp and later paroled. The doctor and the young editor became fast friends, and that friendship has increased as the years have passed. Dr. Pye is a great admirer of the brilliant editor and orator, and has scores of letters from the colonel, they having kept up letters at intervals since that long-ago episode. The doctor thinks his companions in this adventure have smacked arms on the other shore.—Braymer (Mo.) Comet.

Neither Could Understand.

A story was told in a Duluth restaurant yesterday of a man who had secured a position in Chicago and was to leave Duluth to go to work.

However, he got mixed up with some friends while saying good-by and was soon in such a condition that he didn't care whether he went that day or the next. So he hit upon the brilliant idea of sending a postal to his new employer, saying he had missed his train, as an excuse for not being there on time. When he did get to Chicago he asked his boss if he received the card.

"Yes," said the boss. "I got the card all right, but what I can't understand is how you could miss the train when the card didn't."

Neither did the Duluth man understand. That is why the story comes from Duluth. He returned.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

Republicans and Rate Regulation.

Senator Foraker denies the Democratic reports that he is at variance with the administration on the railway rate regulation question or anything else. He makes a point, too, which is of some consequence. According to the senator, the Republicans at Chicago in 1904 refused to put a plank in their platform to give to the interstate commerce commission the power to regulate railway rates. The Democrats, on the other hand, have specifically indorsed that principle. A Republican, therefore, can oppose a measure on this line without laying himself open to the charge of party heterodoxy. But as a majority of the Republicans of each branch of congress undoubtedly favor some sort of rate regulation, a caucus may be had on that issue which will bring all the party in senate and house into line on it.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

DISCONTENT.

The mail is full of letters
And the soup is full of peas,
There's sugar in the coffee
And the yard is full of trees;
The fields are full of stubble
And there's grass upon the ground—
But the world is full of trouble
If we only look around.

The corn is full of kernels,
There are lilies in the brooks;
The trees are full of people,
There are stories in the books;
The orchard's full of apples
And the meadow's full of hay—
But what troubles us the over
If we're only built that way.

The lake's full of steamers
And the trees are full of leaves,
The meadow's full of clover
And the fields are full of sheaves;
The forest is full of deer
And the rain is damp and wet—
But how much there is to fret on
If we really want to fret.

The bees are full of honey
And the apples full of juice,
The banks are full of money
But—be happy! What's the use?
The heart is full of pebbles,
There is water in the cruse—
But nothing really suits us
If we really want to kick.

The following story is told of Judge G. W. Green, who for many years was judge of the probate court at St. Albans, Vermont:

At the annual town meeting the purchase of a new town hearse had been voted, and a committee appointed to canvass the townspeople for subscriptions. One of the committee thought it would be an excellent plan to have the judge's name at the head of the list, and to that end he approached him. The judge absolutely refused to make a contribution, and, when questioned as to the reason said: "Why should I subscribe toward a new hearse when I haven't ridden in the old one yet?"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Who the Joke Was On.

Harper's Weekly tells of a Baltimore physician who boarded a crowded car in Charles street. A woman was standing and a big German was sprawling over twice the seat area that was necessary for him. Indignantly the physician said to him:

"See here! Why don't you move a little so that this tired woman may have a seat?"

For a moment the German looked dazed. Then a broad smile spread over his countenance as he answered:

"Say, doc's a joke on you, all right! Dot's my vife!"

Neither Could Understand.

A story was told in a Duluth restaurant yesterday of a man who had secured a position in Chicago and was to leave Duluth to go to work.

However, he got mixed up with some friends while saying good-by and was soon in such a condition that he didn't care whether he went that day or the next. So he hit upon the brilliant idea of sending a postal to his new employer, saying he had missed his train, as an excuse for not being there on time. When he did get to Chicago he asked his boss if he received the card.

"Yes," said the boss. "I got the card all right, but what I can't understand is how you could miss the train when the card didn't."

Neither did the Duluth man understand. That is why the story comes from Duluth. He returned.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

Republicans and Rate Regulation.

Senator Foraker denies the Democratic reports that he is at variance with the administration on the railway rate regulation question or anything else. He makes a point, too, which is of some consequence. According to the senator, the Republicans at Chicago in 1904 refused to put a plank in their platform to give to the interstate commerce commission the power to regulate railway rates. The Democrats, on the other hand, have specifically indorsed that principle. A Republican, therefore, can oppose a measure on this line without laying himself open to the charge of party heterodoxy. But as a majority of the Republicans of each branch of congress undoubtedly favor some sort of rate regulation, a caucus may be had on that issue which will bring all the party in senate and house into line on it.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

DISCONTENT.

The mail is full of letters
And the soup is full of peas,
There's sugar in the coffee
And the yard is full of trees;
The fields are full of stubble
And there's grass upon the ground—
But the world is full of trouble
If we only look around.

The corn is full of kernels,
There are lilies in the brooks;
The trees are full of people,
There are stories in the books;
The orchard's full of apples
And the meadow's full of hay—
But what troubles us the over
If we're only built that way.

The lake's full of steamers
And the trees are full of leaves,
The meadow's full of clover
And the fields are full of sheaves;
The forest is full of deer
And the rain is damp and wet—
But how much there is to fret on
If we really want to fret.

The bees are full of honey
And the apples full of juice,
The banks are full of money
But—be happy! What's the use?
The heart is full of pebbles,
There is water in the cruse—
But nothing really suits us
If we really want to kick.

Interesting Happenings About the People Who Are Traveling.

Down in the blue grass country people take life easier than do the residents of Pittsburgh, and the difference is so marked that it brought forth an expression of amusement from Col. J. M. Hastings of Covington, Ky., who is stopping at the Lincoln. This is the first time Col. Hastings ever saw Pittsburgh and when walking up Fifth avenue yesterday afternoon he remarked to a Pittsburgher:

"Is it possible that the majority of the people we see on the streets at the hour of day are employed, and are about the streets on business?

He got an affirmative reply and stood for a while watching the endless procession. "This is a most wonderful city," continued Col. Hastings. "I have been around the country a good bit and have seen crowds in many other cities, but everywhere else the majority of people on the streets during business hours are women and women who are shopping. But you see so many men, young and old, in Pittsburgh, who are apparently intent upon their duties. They are going about seemingly from business to business and from store to store. Crowds are just as big in some other cities, but they are not the busy crowds one sees in Pittsburgh. Often I have heard how busy this city was, but I never saw it demonstrated before."

Tells About Cheap Furniture.

C. N. Spratt of Bay City, Mich., a furniture manufacturer, stopping at the Henry, was talking last night of the assignment of a British government commissioner who has started for the United States to make a study of furniture manufacture. He said:

"I understand the English government has sent this man over here to ascertain what secret makes it possible for United States manufacturers to turn out the finest furniture in the world at the lowest prices. Evidently that man has a good 'pull' with the high author

DREADFUL FACTS TOLD TO VOTERS

Speakers of Federation of Church Address Meeting in Tenth Ward, Allegheny.

CHARGES AGAINST OFFICIALS

Five hundred citizens of Allegheny met last night and listened to burning speeches by members of the Federation of Churches on the deplorable conditions in Allegheny, brought about by the connivance of the city administration. The meeting was held in the Charles street Republican headquarters, that being the only available meeting place in the Tenth ward, for whose citizens the meeting was intended.

The Rev. F. J. McCabe, pastor of the Roman Catholic Church of the Annunciation, presided, and the meeting was largely composed of his parishioners. It was addressed by the Rev. Dr. D. A. McClenahan, professor of Greek at the Allegheny Theological seminary; Harvey Henderson and Dr. S. S. Woodburn.

In his opening address Chairman McCabe said:

The federation of churches is not a political or sectarian body. It was organized to suppress vice by means of electing candidates to public office who pledge themselves to clean government. There are 1,200 disreputable women in this city. Gambling houses galore are not only permitted to exist, but are even encouraged by city officials. The condition of public morals is not only a disgrace, but a serious menace to our young people.

Some people think priests and preachers in the federation movement are bent on politics. This is not so, but surely we have the right to step in where we see the morals of our people being basely contaminated.

Father McCabe took occasion to deny publicly that he had ever spoken of anyone in particular as a fit candidate for mayor. He said he was with the federation in whatever choice it made.

Harvey Henderson asked if those present would vote for a candidate who represented men who live on the earnings of fallen women, disorderly houses and gambling dens.

The Rev. Dr. D. A. McClenahan said in part:

Is there a man in Allegheny who would dare in a public place to stand up and defend open gambling places? Yet these exist, and I challenge a denial. Is there a man among you or anywhere in this city who would dare to espouse the cause of the bad woman, and yet there are 253 disorderly houses in your city. I defy any official or policeman even to say he does not know such to be the case. Why, I know public officials who visit these places. What is to be done?

We can control the political situation and elect our own candidate by concentrated effort. We don't want new laws, merely the enforcement of the code now existing.

Dr. S. S. Woodburn said the game of politics was absolutely without decency and void of all claim to morality.

Eight of the 13 United Presbyterian churches in Allegheny have already organized branches of the federation, and the other three will have them soon. Father McCabe spoke of having received a number of filthy anonymous letters lately, because of the step he has taken in the federation movement. He is vice president of the federation. When the meeting adjourned at 10:30 p. m., a book was placed on the table for anyone who intended to help in the fight, to sign. Over 200 of those present signed it. A fine collection was taken up for the cause.

ART SOCIETY READY TO OPEN ITS SEASON

Many Artists of High Station Have Been Secured for Delectation of Patrons.

Members of the Art society will receive in the mail this morning the prospectus of the thirty-third season. While the Pittsburgh orchestra is a creation of the Art society, the orchestra series of concerts is quite independent and apart from the concerts and lectures that constitute a regular Art society season.

The season will open on November 16 with the first performance in Pittsburgh of a Shakespeare song cycle, music by Miss Grace Wassall of Chicago. The plan of this work is similar to that of Liza Lehmann's "Persian Garden." The work has been heard in New York and Chicago and is a valued addition to the few compositions written for mixed quartet. The artists engaged are: David Bispham, bass; Mme. Shotwell-Piper, soprano; Mme. Katherine Fisk, contralto; Mr. Kelly Cole, tenor; Miss Ethel Cave-Cole, accompanist. In addition to the cycle the evening's program will contain a miscellaneous second part in which Mr. Bispham will have an honored place.

Other engagements are as follows: Piano recital by Alfred Reisenauer, one of the great pianists of the period; a concert of music of the olden time by Mr. Arnold Dolmetsch, Mrs. Mabel Dolmetsch and Miss Kathleen Salmon, who will give one of their unique programs of the music of the XVI., XVII., and XVIII. centuries, using the old-fashioned instruments of these periods. The Dolmetsch party was heard last year for the first time before Art society members, and the charm of their music will not soon be forgotten.

Mr. Sadakichi Hartmann, a well-known Japanese author and art critic, will give an illustrated lecture on Japanese art in conjunction with an exhibition of Japanese prints. The usual concert by the Pittsburgh orchestra will be given. Two local artists, Miss Julia Gibansky, pianist, and Miss Amanda Vierheller, soprano, will be heard in a recital program. These Pittsburgh musicians have only recently returned from an extended season abroad, where they received recognition from the highest sources.

No Art society season would be complete without the chamber music of the Kneisel quartet. Two years ago the members of the quartet withdrew from the Boston Symphony orchestra to devote all their time to chamber music. The members of the quartet are: Franz Kneisel, J. Theodorowicz, Louis Svecenski and Alwin Schroeder.

In addition to the above brilliant list the directors announce the engagement of the Ben Greet English players, who will appear either in Carnegie Music hall, or as is possible in the open air in late May or June, in a performance of one of Shakespeare's comedies. The remarkable performance of the morality play, "Everyman," given in Pittsburgh several seasons ago by the Ben Greet company, can never be forgotten. Acceptance of Mr. Greet's dramatic and artistic ideal was so general in the United States after the "Everyman" season that when he undertook to present his company in a long list of Shakespearean and Elizabethan performances, he was greeted with acclaim in all cultivated circles. The officers of the Art society are Edwin Z. Smith, president; M. B. Leisser, vice president; W. C. Magee, secretary; Edward A. Woods, treasurer. These gentlemen, with Messrs. John C. Slack, Isaac E. Hirsch, F. T. F. Lovejoy, W. N. Frew, Robert C. Hall and Dr. P. J. Eaton, constitute the board of directors.

SEARCHLIGHT CAMPAIGN IS ON AT PHILADELPHIA

Wanamaker Has Captured Newspapers and Republicans Must Resort to Billboards.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28.—With one exception the newspapers here have been placed at the disposal of John Wanamaker. The result is that four of the morning papers are daily filled with matter adverse to the Republican organization and the Republican county ticket.

Finding it impossible to reach the people through the press the Republican managers have decided to use billboards, electric signs, banners, flash, spot and searchlights, which will play on printed facts which the people may read. It's an expensive idea, but the only way in which the Republican argument can be presented in this campaign. This feature was decided on by Senator Penrose and his lieutenants some weeks ago and they have contracted, it is said, for all of the billboard space in town. Mass meetings will be the prime feature and they will be held nightly beginning next Monday. Vice President Fairbanks, Senator Foraker and other speakers of national prominence, including Senator Knox, are expected to speak. Senator Penrose said today that while there was no doubt of Republican success the present campaign would be more aggressively waged than any during the past 20 years.

This address was made to firemen, by their foremen, at roll call this morning: "You have read or heard that Mayor Weaver has declared for the city party, and that he has pledged all of the city departments to that cause. No instructions are to be given you, but you are warned that you must look out for yourselves and your positions."

The police are in politics. For a month they have been canvassing the assessors' lists and are now engaged in making a final poll. There has been an average of a burglary to the block during this period—all suppressed at city hall. If the firemen use as much diligence as the police a few bonfires may be expected.

RAISE OF WAGES FOR B. & O. METAL WORKERS

BALTIMORE, Sept. 28.—Announcement was made today that the wage scale of the metal workers and machinists in the locomotive repair shops of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad has been advanced from 10 to 25 cents a day. This advance affects about 3,700 men over the system and means an increase in the pay roll of the company of about $150,000 a year.

THOUSANDS WITNESS MONUMENT UNVEILING

Impressive Ceremonies Conducted at Hanover in Commemoration of Battle.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]
HANOVER, PA., Sept. 28.—This historic borough was the scene of a great demonstration today, when the handsome monument erected by the commonwealth of Pennsylvania to commemorate the battle of Hanover was unveiled with impressive ceremonies. Thousands of people were in attendance. The exercises began at 2 o'clock. The statue was unveiled by Miss Edna Florence Bittinger. As the veiling flags fell and disclosed the bronze figure of the soldier, cavalryman the thousands burst into wild cheers.

A salute of 21 guns was then fired. The presentation of the statue was made by Governor Pennypacker, chairman of the state monument commission. The governor's address was extremely patriotic. He paid a glowing tribute to the American soldier, expressed his admiration of this country and lauded President Roosevelt's efforts in establishing peace between Russia and Japan.

His remarks were directed chiefly to the battle of Hanover and matters of local interest. While on the speaker's stand the governor occupied the oldest chair in America, an English arm chair made in 1439 and owned by John J. Bingley, of this town. John J. Bollinger accepted the statue on behalf of the borough of Hanover. Addresses were made by Gen. E. D. Dimmick of Washington; Col. Andrew Bridgeman, Sergt. C. S. Pierce, Col. H. C. Potter of Philadelphia and Assemblyman John Francies of Allegheny.

The ceremonies closed with the singing of "America," in which the vast audience joined, and the benediction by the Rev. Ellis Hay. Tonight there was a grand display of fireworks on the fair grounds.

REPORT NEW RAILROAD DEAL.

Believed the Pennsylvania Will Soon Acquire Control of the Wilkes-Barre and Eastern.

WILKES-BARRE, PA., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—It was reported here today that the Pennsylvania railroad is soon to acquire control of the Wilkes-Barre & Easten railroad, the single track route from this city to New York and the shortest rail route between the two points. The line, it is stated, is to be used by the Pennsylvania as an outlet to New York for its anthracite coal, being several hours shorter than any other route.

Connections can be made by a bridge across the river south of this city and one mile of trackage on the west side of the river to the point where the Wilkes-Barre & Eastern railroad tracks start directly opposite the center of this city.

ORGANIZE OLD HOME WEEK ASSOCIATION

FRANKLIN, PA., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—So successful was the recent celebration of Old Home week in this city that the Old Home Week association has been formed with James B. Borland as president, and O. L. Bleakley as secretary. The same officers that engineered the celebration this year. A balance of $200 remains in the treasury, and this will be spent in preliminary preparations for the next gathering in 1910. Hereafter the celebration will be held on the second week in August every fifth year.

Company Becomes Real Angry.

IRWIN, PA., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—The Pittsburgh & Westmoreland Railway Company officials this morning closed headquarters in Irwin and moved their effects to McKeesport. They state that they are done with the town and the line will have its terminus about half a mile from its limits. They also state that a new location will be selected for head offices, powerhouse, car barns, etc. The reason given is that the council annuled the company's franchise in the town.

JUMPS FROM BRIDGE ONLY TO BE RESCUED

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—John Davison, a local merchant who returned a few days ago from the Mercy hospital Pittsburgh, jumped off the Youghiogheny river bridge here this afternoon, landing feet first in the water, 60 feet below. His left ankle was broken by the fall. Men who saw him jump rescued him.

No Decision in Taggart Case.

WOOSTER, O., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—The public will have to wait a few days longer before it can know the results of the Taggart divorce trial. Judge Eason, before whom the case was heard, announced this evening that he would not be ready to give his finding on Saturday as he intended for the reason that he had not gone over the evidence as thoroughly as he wished. He stated that he would be ready some day next week.

Confirms a Large Class.

UNIONTOWN, PA., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—A class of about 130 persons was confirmed this afternoon at St. John's Roman Catholic church of Uniontown by the Rt. Rev. Bishop J. F. Regis Canevin of Pittsburgh, assisted by the Rev. B. P. Kenna of St. John's church, Uniontown; the Rev. T. J. Glynn of Brownsville, the Rev. Robert McDonald of Braddock, Father Mahady of Homewood, Father Murphy of Dunbar and others.

The Death Roll.

Mrs. Mary Ann Waugaman.

Mrs. Mary Ann Waugaman, widow of Peter Waugaman, died yesterday at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Sarah E. Warren, 324 South Negley avenue, after an illness of three months. She was born in Westmoreland county May 11, 1829, and was the daughter of Henry and Mary Lauffer. She had been a resident of Pittsburgh nearly 20 years, making her home with her daughter. She leaves the following children: Dr. Z. L. Waugaman, Greensburg; Mrs. Paul R. Brinker, Manor; Mrs. Minnie R. Fisher, Mrs. Emma C. Rust and Mrs. Warren of this city. Two brothers, Jacob and Isaac Lauffer of Greensburg also survive. Mrs. Waugaman was a member of the Brush Creek Reformed church. Funeral services will be held from the residence of her daughter tomorrow at 4 p. m., and will be in charge of the Rev. Dr. John H. Prugh. The interment will be at Brush Creek, Westmoreland county, on Monday afternoon.

Obituary Notes.

Hugh B. Johnston, who had been connected with the Union Switch and Signal Company for 22 years, and in point of service was the oldest foreman in the employ of the concern, died yesterday at his home, 2214 Hawthorne avenue, Swissvale.

W. C. McClellan, aged 52 years, a well-known resident of Vandergrift, dropped dead from heart disease yesterday just after eating. Mr. McClellan was born in Vandergrift and had spent his entire life in the Kiskiminetas valley. He leaves a widow and two sons.

Family Escapes in Night Clothes.

The family of Walter Newby of Homeville, was awakened from sleep early yesterday morning by smoke and found the house was burning. Newby and his wife and child escaped and were cared for by neighbors. The house was burned to the ground, causing a loss of $2,000. The blaze originated in the second floor, where a fire was kept burning for a boarder.

Clara Livingston Is Arrested.

The Allegheny police raided the house of Clara Livingston, 212 East Robinson street, early yesterday morning. Miss Livingston, four inmates, and two men visitors were taken to Central station. The latter left forfeits of $10 each and did not attend the hearings. The Livingston woman was fined $50 and costs or 20 days in jail, and each girl was assessed $5 and costs.

Zahniser, of Emporium, of Dubois district; the Rev. J. H. Hill, of New Castle, of Bradford district; the Rev. W. D. Miller, of Oil City, of New Castle district; the Rev. J. S. McGeary, of Oil City, of Oil City district. After his election the Rev. J. J. Zahniser told how he had dreamed that he would be elected presiding elder of the Dubois district.

Fireman Meets Instant Death.

GREENSBURG, PA., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—Pennsylvania Railroad Fireman James Whitmore of Pitcairn met death near the local passenger station this morning. Whitmore was firing for an eastbound train, and while leaning out of the window was struck by a train going west. He was thrown from the cab beneath the wheels of his train and was decapitated. The remains were taken to the home of his parents in New Bloomfield, Perry county.

Is Swamped With Orders.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—The local Bessemer plant of the Republic Iron & Steel Company is fairly swamped with rail orders and is unable to change from rails to billets in order to keep its own continuous finishing mills here in operation. The outlook for the men employed on the continuous mills is discouraging.

Stone Crushes Man to Death.

OIL CITY, PA., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—Walter Bates, aged 48 years, was instantly killed today while working on the new government building here. He was directing the hoisting of a large stone when the crane broke and the stone and machinery fell on his head, crushing it. Bates was a widower and formerly lived at Bradford.

Cavalry Veterans Elect President.

HARRISBURG, PA., Sept. 28.—The Thirteenth Pennsylvania Veteran Cavalry association held its annual reunion here today. Capt. P. D. Bricker, Jersey Shore, was elected president. The next meeting will be held at Huntingdon in October, 1906.

ENGINEER BATES

SUFFERED FROM DEPRAVED BLOOD AND WEAKENED NERVES.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Put Good, Red Blood in His Veins and Made Him a Well Man.

"I used to have a great deal of trouble with my skin," says Oscar N. Bates of No. 18 Doubleday street, Binghampton, N. Y. "For four years, every summer, it would break out in itching sores—one especially, on my leg, caused me a great deal of annoyance. The physician whom I employed failed to help me and so I decided to see what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People would do for me. I took them faithfully and in a reasonable time they removed the cause of the trouble. That was eight years ago and I have had no return of it since.

"I also was cured of another more serious trouble by these pills," continued Mr. Bates. "I am a locomotive engineer and the strain of my work brought on a nervousness, together with an impairment of my eyesight. I would grow dizzy at times, my strength would leave me and I could only sleep for a few moments at a time. But Dr. Williams' Pink Pills soon cured me of this and I think I have good reason to recommend them to all. My daughter has also taken them and they helped her greatly."

Mr. Bates is a veteran of the civil war, having served efficiently in Company E, Sixty-seventh Pennsylvania infantry, and in the Signal Corps, Army of the James, Department of Virginia and North Carolina. He is a member of Post 119, G. A. R., at Oneota, also a member of U. S. A. Signal Corps association and of Division 58, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

The remedy that cured Mr. Bates went right to the root of his trouble in the blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People actually make new blood. Poor blood is the cause of a great many diseases, such as anaemia, headaches, indigestion, nervousness, neuralgia, sciatica, rheumatism, lumbago and the special secret ailments of growing girls and women whose health plainly depends upon the richness and regularity of their blood supply. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have a marvelous power to cure all these ailments. At all druggists, or sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

EAST BELLEVUE
By — The — Loop

has done more than sustain the remarkable precedents of real estate history.

It has gone away beyond them in the volume of sales made, in the short time it has taken to make these sales and in the public approbation that has been showered on the property.

The lay of the land, the great system of street and city improvements, and the suburb's wonderful position outside of the smoke zone, have made a remarkable impression on all who have investigated the proposition; but without the great belt-line trolley, which enters the property at different points, this stupendous undertaking would not have been possible.

Therefore, we must "render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's," and finally give the splendid million-dollar belt-line the credit for everything.

It's bringing great wealth to the new land.
EAST BELLEVUE
BELLEVUE CARS will take you to East Bellevue, over the fine new Thomas ave. fast-loop, or you may take
WEST VIEW CARS over the grand scenic speed-rail route through the Perrysville District. You get either of these cars on Ninth street, or on Liberty avenue at Wood street or Sixth avenue, or on Seventh street. You will be able to inspect the property at night as easily as during the day.
ELECTRIC LIGHTS are at every street crossing.

And What a Belt-Line It Is!

A prominent railroad engineer said yesterday: "That fine T-railed traction road would stand the wear and tear of such locomotives as are hitched to the New York Central's limited trains. The line is a wonder. The famous New York-Chicago eighteen-hour speeders could go over it with perfect safety."

So you see we are building this road with confidence that East Bellevue is to have an unrivaled future.

The continued advance in Bellevue real estate is enough to give us such confidence if no other evidence could be adduced. But what a stack of other evidence there is! Come out and listen to it. Come hear the Bellevue, Avalon and Allegheny citizens reciting it as they walk over the property.

The streets are graded, sewered, electric lighted. There is also gas, and within twenty days the same fine sand-filtered water that is supplied to Bellevue and West View will be piped to every lot on the plan.

Many of the lots are tagged $100, $150, $200, $250, $300, $350, $400, $450, $500, $550, $600 to $1,000, on terms of 5 per cent down and 2½ per cent monthly, with 10 per cent discount for cash.

Architect's plans free to purchasers for a limited period. Provisional Premium Bonds free. These are two great specials. Inquire for particulars about them.

JUDGE SHAFER MAKES LAW CLEAR

In an Important Opinion, All the Courts Refuse to Recognize Liquor Corporations.

REFUSES LICENSE TRANSFER

All the judges of the common pleas courts of this county have concurred in an opinion of Judge Shafer, which is one of the most important handed down in years to liquor interests. Judge Shafer refuses to transfer a liquor license to a corporation, and in his opinion states that retail or wholesale liquor men have no right to incorporate and the courts cannot recognize such a corporation under all the liquor laws. According to the court, there is no law in this state which gives liquor dealers the right to incorporate for the purpose of dealing in liquors, other than breweries, and because of this the courts have decided to refuse a transfer of the liquor license of Patrick J. Brennan to the P. J. Brennan Company.

After referring to the fact that the applicant for the transfer is a corporation formed under the regular corporation act of the state, and naming the holders of the stock, Judge Shafer goes on to state that the only acts which authorize the incorporation of any company to conduct the liquor business are two authorizing the manufacture of malt and brewed liquors, and states that:

The act of July 9, 1901, under which the charter of the present applicant was granted, we are of opinion was not intended to authorize the incorporation of companies to become licensed liquor dealers, either at wholesale or retail.

Careful provision is made for transfers, in case of necessity, of a license already granted to properly qualified persons. If licenses are to be granted to corporations formed for the purpose of procuring them, and acting under them, every one of these requirements of the law would be made nugatory. We cannot understand how a corporation can have moral character or temperate habits, how it can set out its place of birth as required by the act of June, 1891, or how a transfer of the whole interest in the license from the persons at one time holders of the stock to other persons, as often as they may deem proper, can be published into by the court. The business of such a company might be wholly transferred at any time by a sale of stock from one set of men to another.

To show that the incorporators at the time of the application for the license or transfer are persons of good moral character and temperate habits cannot help the matter, because they may at any time cease to be stockholders. All the expressions and provisions of the license laws, except so far as brewing companies are authorized to be incorporated, seem to apply only to natural persons. We are therefore of opinion that there is no law authorizing the granting of a license to a corporation, except brewing companies. And we are further of opinion that no corporation is a "fit person" to receive a liquor license within the meaning of the act of assembly.

Licenses have been granted for some years to a small but apparently increasing number of corporations, and this without any particular investigation or question, so far as we can learn. Under these circumstances to have refused licenses at the annual application for new licenses to corporations which had therefore been licensed without question, while it would not have produced a technical injustice, would have resulted in a real injustice and great hardship, as the parties in this way would have been deprived of a license for a whole year. We therefore determined to give them the benefit of every possible doubt, and to grant the licenses as had therefore been done, without apparently any question. In refusing a transfer to a corporation, however, no such hardship can result. We deem this a proper occasion however, to call the attention of those interested in the matter to our views upon this subject, formed after mature deliberation and consultation with all the judges of the courts of common pleas of the county, so that they may govern themselves accordingly in applying for licenses. The application in this case is therefore refused.

ARTILLERY MEN MEET.

Sixth Heavy Holds Annual Reunion and Campfire.

The surviving members of the Sixth Pennsylvania heavy artillery held their twelfth annual reunion yesterday afternoon, in Post 2 hall, Fifth avenue. The meeting was presided over by Capt. W. H. H. Wasson in the absence of Major J. P. Kemp, who is in Baltimore. After a business session a campfire was held at which informal addresses were made by John T. Ketty of Butler; the Rev. J. M. Sleppy, Capt. W. H. McCandless of New Castle; Campbell Stevenson, John W. Moreland, John A. Reed, M. Porter and Capt. Wasson of Pittsburgh.

At the morning session the following committees were appointed: Resolutions, the Rev. M. J. Sleppy, W. H. Drury and Webb Aiken; obituaries, Grier McCandless, John D. Orr and Dr. W. L. Hunter; offices and time and place of next meeting, Capt. W. H. McCandless, S. R. McCall and John Frisell. The officers elected were as follows: President, W. H. H. Wasson, first vice president; John D. Orr, of Youngstown, O., second vice president; Maj. R. H. Long; secretary and treasurer, R. C. Machesney; financial secretary, Victor Huth; chaplain, the Rev. M. J. Sleppy of New Castle.

OUTLINE THEIR PLANS.

Equal Rights Association Proposes to Work for Municipal Suffrage.

At the meeting of the Equal Rights Association of Allegheny County yesterday, at the rooms of the Central Young Woman's Christian association, Fifth street, plans for the work to be done within the next few months were announced and adopted. One of the things the members propose to work for is municipal suffrage in Pennsylvania and to interest other societies to fight until women are paid the same wages as men when doing men's work.

A meeting of representatives of women's clubs is to be held in this city about October 21, at which Mrs. Lucretia Lankenbern, state president, and Mrs. Luckie, state treasurer, will address the meeting. Miss Jane Campbell, president of the Philadelphia County society, will deliver an address at the meeting of the women's clubs to be held October 17, 18 and 19 at Cambridge Springs.

DEATH RATE INCREASES.

Thirty More Last Week Than in Corresponding Week of 1904.

The Pittsburgh mortuary report for the week ended September 23 shows the total deaths to have been 119, an increase of 30 over the corresponding week of 1904 and an annual death rate of 16.39 per 1,000 inhabitants. Of the decedents 112 were white and 7 black; 7 widows and 8 widowers; 32 were under 1 year of age and 4 over 70, 7 died of pneumonia; 7 of heart disease; 8 of consumption, and 13 of violence.

During the week 104 cases of infectious diseases were reported, 70 of typhoid fever, 22 of scarlet fever and 12 of diphtheria and croup. The bureau of health yesterday reported 14 new cases of typhoid fever and 2 of scarlet fever.

Tonight's Masquerade at Luna.

All is in readiness at Luna park for the great masquerade to be held there tonight. There will be many fancy as well as comical costumes in evidence. For the most comical the park management has offered $10 in gold to the lady and gentleman wearing them, and Pickerings have added to those prizes, two Morris chairs. For the handsomest costumes worn by the lady and gentleman there will be prizes in gold of $15 each. The performers will form in line at the foot of the entrance steps at 10 o'clock sharp and march slowly past the band stand where the judges will be stationed and the award of prizes will then be made and announced that evening.

Has Hall's Discharge Papers.

Capt. L. J. Brauff, at Allegheny City hall, has the discharge papers of Benjamin D. Hall, a corporal of Company H, Sixth regiment, Ohio volunteer infantry, who enlisted in the Civil war, June 23, 1861, and was discharged June 23, 1864. The papers were handed to Capt. Brauff yesterday by Policeman Joseph Gaumann. They were given to him by an old lady in Allegheny, with whom Hall once boarded. She broke up housekeeping recently and found the discharge papers in a book.

JOSEPH C. WASSON IS CALLED AS WITNESS

Councilmen Tell What They Know of Passage of Grant Boulevard Franchise.

Joseph C. Wasson, a member of common councils from the Twentieth ward when the franchise granting the Grant & Liberty Street Railway Company the right to use the Grant boulevard was passed, was called as a witness before Commissioner Gamble in the Shuff case yesterday. Mr. Wasson voted against the ordinance, but his testimony is said to be of great interest to the plaintiff in the case. Almost as much time was consumed with the witness as with W. H. Stevenson, who, as a member of common councils, led the fight against the ordinance. While Wasson was behind closed doors the other councilmen, who waited outside, discussed the fact that they were being kept away from their business.

J. W. Shearer, who was at that time a member of common councils from the Thirty-seventh ward, while waiting outside, said he was at home when the ordinance was passed. He said he was not particular whether the ordinance was passed or not, so long as there was competition with the Pittsburgh Railways Company, which he believed at the time was intended when the company secured the franchise.

W. B. Wolff of the Twenty-second ward was heard yesterday. He voted against the ordinance. He said before the hearing he had to refresh his memory from the municipal records as to the details of the meeting, it being so long since the passage of the ordinance. He aided Mr. Stevenson to fight the ordinance. J. K. Wymard was also heard.

City Attorney Rodgers, who is one of counsel for the defendant, and who took a question of law before Judge Buffington relative to Shuff divulging the name of the man he came to see in Pittsburgh, intimated that there are others beside the Voters Civic league interested in the case. The name of the man Shuff came to see has never been divulged.

One of the most interesting facts of the case is that the Pittsburgh Railways Company, which is fighting the case, cannot lose, no matter which way the matter is decided. It is alleged the company does not really wish to build a line on the Grant boulevard, as it would be hard to maintain a paying line there. It is desired, however, to prevent any other interests from establishing competition on this thoroughfare. If Shuff wins the case it will preclude not only the Pittsburgh Railways Company from building a line there, but any other company. If the railways company wins it can build a line or not, as it sees fit.

POTPIE COMES HIGH.

After Two Years Game Warden Arrests McKeesporter for Shooting "Flickers" Out of Season.

"Flicker" potpie comes high, even when it is two years old. Game Warden J. White of West Virginia was in McKeesport yesterday and served requisition papers on John H. Malloy, a wholesale liquor dealer of Fifth avenue. Malloy went with the warden to Fairmont to answer a charge of killing "flickers" out of season.

Two years ago Malloy and Dr. W. M. Downey, also of McKeesport, went to West Virginia to hunt. Not knowing "flickers" were out of season they killed several and took them to their boarding house. Then they returned to McKeesport and boasted of the delights of "flicker" potpie. In the meantime the West Virginia game wardens were pursuing the hunters and caught up with Malloy only yesterday. Dr. Downey is hoping that Malloy will square the matter without him being called upon.

BANDY IN NEW YORK.

Asks to Be Locked Up Fearing He Will Commit Suicide.

Robert Bandy, who disappeared from his home, 317 Perry street, Allegheny, on September 14, has been heard from in New York. A telegram from that city states that Bandy entered a police station there Wednesday night and asked to be locked up as he feared he would commit suicide. When arraigned next morning he said he had no recollection of how he had reached New York. He was turned over to the probation officer.

Bandy is 19 years old. He is married, has one child and lived with his parents. On the morning of his disappearance he kissed his wife and baby goodbye. Several days later he was heard from in New York and money was sent him to return home. That was the last heard from him until yesterday. His friends can offer no reason for his leaving home. Some one will probably go to New York and bring him home.

BIGELOW KNUCKLES, BECAUSE LARKIN DID

Controller John B. Larkin and Director Bigelow held another conference yesterday on the viewers' report on the widening and extension of Hamilton avenue. Afterward the controller said the director agrees with him that the assessment made by the viewers on the city was far too high, and Bigelow would evolve some plan to save the city money. The other day the director said the viewers' report ought to be accepted by the city, but now that Larkin and he agree in state politics, the director has changed his mind about Hamilton avenue, in return for Larkin's political flip-flap.

CHARGES POLICEMAN WITH INTERFERING WITH OFFICER

James J. Boyce, a constable in the office of Alderman C. F. Over Anderson, yesterday made information charging B. Rosenblatt, a policeman, with interfering with an officer. The alleged interference occurred on July 28, when Constable Boyce went to the Akron apartments, Craig street and Center avenue, to post a notice of restraint. The janitor of the building objected, and during a quarrel Officer Rosenblatt is said to have been called in and ejected Boyce.

Passavant Hospital Needs Money.

HOW TO FIND OUT.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains the linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it, or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, and a book that tells all about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing be sure to mention that you read this generous offer in The Pittsburgh Daily Gazette. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

CRUDE TAKES ANOTHER JUMP OF FIVE CENTS

Oil Operators Are Expecting to See the Price Go Up to $2 a Barrel.

Another advance in the credit balance market was posted yesterday and brought the quotation for crude oil of the Pennsylvania grade a point higher than at any time during the current year. On the first of the year Pennsylvania credit balances were quoted at $1.50. The advance of 5 cents yesterday brought the market for high-grade crude up to $1.65, making the appreciation in value 24 cents in a little more than two weeks. All other grades, except Ragian, shared in the advance. Not even Kansas and the territories were overlooked, although the advance in the price of the inferior grades was not so pronounced. The new quotations are as follows: Pennsylvania, $1.65; Cabell, $1.61; second sand, $1.51; New Castle, $1.55; Corning, $1.05; Cabell, $1.15; North Lima, 91c; South Lima and Indiana, 89c; Somerset, 85c; Ragian, 49c. The heavy grades of Kansas and the territories were each advanced 5 cents, while the higher grade, 35 gravity and above, was advanced but 1 cent and is now quoted at 51c; 31½ gravity was advanced from 46 to 48c; 31 from 42 to 45c; 29½ from 42c; 29 from 34 to 39c, and fuel oil from 30 to 35c. The last named grade has been advanced 10c a barrel within the past three weeks.

Now that the credit balance market for Pennsylvania crude has been pushed above the $1.50 mark, oil men are talking a much higher market and some of the more enthusiastic think they can see $2 oil in the no distant future. They argue that less than two years ago when they had a $1.50 market the conditions were not nearly so favorable as at the present. The stocks show a greater depletion now than then, and the chance for finding new production have been greatly reduced. Much of the old territory has been developed and the prospects for finding new producing territory has been growing more difficult each month.

The higher market will stimulate another effort but it will be the unexpected that happens if the close of the year shows an increase in production. At all events, should the demand continue at the present high standard the stocks will still have to furnish the difference.

Redstone Presbytery Adjourns.

UNIONTOWN, PA., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—Before the adjournment of Redstone presbytery of the Presbyterian church which was in session at New Salem, it was decided to hold the spring meeting in the Central Presbyterian church at McKeesport.

Too Much Worry.

Worry kills more people than disease. It turns our hair gray; draws wrinkles on our face, places lines of care on our brow. We worry because we have too much to do. We worry because we have nothing to do. We worry about our friends. Make our friends wonder at our impatient and irritable nature, and if we don't take the trouble to learn the great secret we will worry ourselves into the grave. Worry is caused by a diseased stomach. Dactonene Dyspepsia Tablets cure it. Get them today. A contented mind is surely yours—the greatest blessing man or woman can have. "Ask the Druggist."

CHURCH SHOULD BE IN POLITICS

Cumberland Preachers So Declare at the Meeting of the Pennsylvania Synod.

AGGRESSIVE SUNDAY SCHOOL

The closing session of the Pennsylvania synod of the Cumberland Presbyterian church was enlivened by a discussion on the church in politics. Several ministers took part in the talk, all being unanimous in declaring that every Christian ought to interest himself in politics.

The occasion for the discussion was a paper read by the Rev. Dr. W. S. Danley of McKeesport on "The Christian Citizen in Politics." Dr. Danley said all citizens should be in politics for the good they could do, and not for any personal benefit which they might hope to derive. They should take an interest in politics for principle, not prejudice, to appreciate and advance character. The Rev. A. R. Elliott of California, Pa., spoke on "What Part Should the Church Take in Political Affairs?" His solution was that the church should participate through the individual members; every Christian should participate in politics for righteousness, should attend primaries and caucuses and demand the nomination of the right kind of men to office.

During the ensuing discussion the Rev. J. K. Harris said: "The church, in its official organized capacity, can fight wrong. The time of purification of politics is fast approaching."

The synod adopted resolutions thanking the pastor and members of the Cumberland Presbyterian church, in which the sessions were held, for their hospitality. The report of the committee on Sunday schools was read and approved. The Rev. J. H. Norris of Mercer described "The Best Methods of Conducting the Home Department" and the Rev. J. H. Miller made a speech declaring for aggressiveness on the part of the Sunday school, saying it was not aggressive because the laity lacked efficiency. During the discussion the Rev. Mr. Clark of Clairton suggested that a normal class be established in each Sunday school for the training of teachers.

The Rev. J. S. Patton of Washington, Pa., and the Rev. G. G. Kery of Charleroi talked on the society of Christian Endeavor as a means for training the young. At the evening session the Rev. H. C. Cockrun of Jackson Center delivered an address. The next meeting will be at Punxsutawney.

BANDS AND BRASS BUTTONS.

Boys' Brigade Will Make Big Showing at Annual Convention.

Lieut.-Gen. H. P. Bope will return to the city tomorrow and will take charge of the arrangements for the convention of the United Boys' Brigade of America, of which he is the commanding officer. The convention, which takes place October 6, 7 and 8 in this city, will be an interesting and unique gathering. The national headquarters of the organization are in the Columbia bank building.

The field day exercises take place next Friday morning in Friendship park. The competitive drills will be held in the afternoon at the same place. In the parade on Saturday afternoon there will be from 1,500 to 2,000 boys. A number of military bands have been engaged. The parade will start from Cedar avenue, Allegheny, and march to Schenley park. A business session will be held Saturday morning in the First Presbyterian church, but the principal meeting will be held Sunday afternoon, in the Nixon theater, to which the public is invited.

M'ADOO WILL NOT BE A CANDIDATE

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Police Commissioner McAdoo declared today that he is not a candidate for the office of district attorney on the Democratic ticket at the coming city election and that he would not accept any such nomination if it were offered to him. His name had been suggested as an opponent to Mr. Jerome.

CAPT. CARTER'S STOCK DEALS ARE PROBED

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—Cross-examination of former Capt. Oberlin Carter, charged with defrauding the government out of nearly $3,000,000, today dealt with the defendant's stock and bond deals between 1898 and 1896. Indications are it will take at least three more weeks to conclude the questioning of the witness.

WHITE WOMAN SENTENCED FOR MARRYING A NEGRO

MAGNOLIA, MISS., Sept. 28.—Bessie Perkins, a white woman, was sentenced today to 10 years in the penitentiary for marrying and living with a negro, Robert Brown. Judge Wilkinson in passing sentence, regretted he could make the punishment no heavier. The woman declared she did not know Brown was a negro.

Be Sure to use a
Cream of Tartar
Baking Powder

ROYAL Baking Powder is Made of Cream of Tartar and is Free From Alum or Phosphatic Acid

Royal Baking Powder is pure and wholesome beyond question. There is never any doubt of the healthfulness nor of the superiority of the food it leavens.

Consumers are sometimes solicited to buy baking powders other than Royal because they cost less. It is evident to cost less they must be made of inferior ingredients.

Low-priced baking powders—10c., 20c., 25c., etc.,—are made from alum, phosphate or other harsh acid

At most, an alum powder would not lessen the cost of a cake or batch of biscuit more than the fraction of a cent. But can you afford for any sum to endanger your health by making your food with a dangerous baking powder?

"I regard the use of alum baking powders as highly injurious to the health of the community, and believe that their sale should be forbidden by law."—GEO. F. BARKER, M.D., University of Pennsylvania.

EASY VICTORY FOR PITTSBURGH BOYS

Brooklyn Beaten Good and Hard in Seven Innings by Fine Stick Work.

GIANTS ARE SHUT OUT

Another record of the season was broken yesterday at Exposition park in line with the record smashing performances of the week. On Monday Phillippe broke a record by hitting three batsmen in one inning; on Tuesday Lynch and Leifield broke a record by giving 11 bases on balls; on Wednesday the New Yorks broke a record by winning three games in succession. Yesterday the low attendance record was broken. There were only 1,220 people at the game (eight of them in the boxes). The previous low water mark was 1,230. This was on June 23 last, with the Brooklyns here and the weather cloudy. The small crowd yesterday seemed to be asleep, and when it did get up and yell there was no volume, no enthusiasm. The game came to an end in the seventh on account of darkness, and nobody had energy enough to object.

The Brooklyns were comparatively easy for the Pirates. They managed to chalk up three runs before the Pittsburghs could get more than one man to third base. They did it on a good batting, pacing, three singles and a double off Phillippe in the third inning. The double drove in two runs, and then Phillippe left the rubber in favor of Lynch. In the fourth a base on balls and a three-bagger gave the visitors another run. The three-bagger was hit by Phil. Lewis, the Pittsburgh boy.

The Pirates began to hit the ball hard and often after the fourth inning, and there was nothing to it. At one fell swoop they tied the score by running across the plate three times. Hillebrand made a hit and so did Ritchey. Gibson sacrificed. Lynch sent a fly to left field, which Lumley dropped after a hard run. Hillebrand scored. Clarke sent the ball to center for a single, scoring Ritchey and Lynch.

In the sixth inning every Pirate went to bat. Wagner started off by hitting the ball past Lewis for three bases. He scored on a single by Brain. Hillebrand sacrificed. Ritchey reached, scoring Brain. Ritchey stole second. Gibson got his base on balls and Lynch beat out a bunt, filling the bases. Clarke hit for a single, scoring Gibson and Lynch, and Ganley hit for three bases, scoring Clarke. Leach struck out, and there is a suspicion that he did so purposely.

The Brooklyns tallied once in the seventh. Hummel hit for a single, went to second on Lewis' out at first, to third on a single by Malay and scored on Malay's force at second by Bergen.

In their half of the seventh the Pirates made two runs. Wagner reached first on a wild throw by Lewis and Brain singled. Both were moved up by Hillebrand's second sacrifice hit. Ritchey made a double, scoring Wagner and sending Brain to third. Gibson went out to Sheckard and Brain crossed the plate. Lynch also went out to Sheckard, ending the inning. Then Emslie called the game on account of darkness and the crowd was satisfied.

ATHLETICS WIN FIRST BLOOD WITH CHICAGO

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28.—Philadelphia defeated Chicago today in the first game of the series upon which probably hangs the American league championship. It was a hard-fought game from start to finish. Plank pitched a great game, allowing the visitors only three hits and striking out 12 men. The home team scored its first run on three singles. The second came on a base on balls, a fumble by Rohe, an out and a single. The winning run was made on a base on balls, an out and a single. Chicago scored its two runs in the fourth inning, Isbell doubled and G. Davis was hit by a pitched ball. They worked the double steal and Donohue sent them home with a two-base hit. With two out in the ninth and Donohue on first, Hartsel dropped a fly ball, Donohue going to second. McFarland, who was sent to bat for Green, was purposely given a base on balls. Rohe was hit by a pitched ball, filling the bases, and Sullivan went out, Plank to Davis. Today's victory gives Philadelphia every series played with the other seven clubs in the league. An enormous crowd saw the game, there being 20,346 present. Score:

The Royal bowling team of Pittsburgh took two out of three games from the Wilkinsburg team last night at Wilkinsburg. The Royals were champions of the Allegheny County league last year, and have challenged the Wilkinsburg players to another series of six games. Last Friday night the Wilkinsburg team rolled the Royals in the Wylie avenue alleys and defeated them, and they will also won the series by 31 pins. Warfield and Lee tied for high score, with 107, and Lee made high average of 98 1-3. Scores:

Tonight there will be an interesting contest when the Federal and Unity teams come together on the Federal alleys. If both teams roll up to their averages there should be some big scores registered.

All Unity players are to report on the alleys not later than 7:30. Happeiser, take notice.

The Millvale bowling team met at Sirlin's alleys and elected their officers for the ensuing year. Ed. Hickey was elected treasurer, and John Servatius was chosen captain. A uniform was decided upon and all minor details completed.

Members of the Great Eastern team are requested to report this evening at the Penn avenue alleys for a practice game with the Shadyside team, champions of the Liberty Valley league.

The following Wilkinsburg Casino players are to report on the Casino alleys this evening to transact important business: Schumaker, Bell, Mansfield, Doane, Fletcher, Loos, Hewitt and Gapen.

Last night on the Federal alleys there was a surprise sprung on the Federal team, when the Cecelia's took that team in to camp for two out of three games. The Cecelia, no doubt will surprise some of the natives from the North Side before the season is over. The Federals will make 900 scores look common after they once get started. Neidhart done the best rolling of the evening, having an average of 284 2-3. Logue, had high score of 207. For the Federals, Gerstbrein done the most consistent work. Scores:

CINCINNATI, Sept. 28.—The largest crowd in the history of Grand circuit racing at Oakley Park was in attendance today. The free-for-all trot was the feature of the day. Wentworth, Snyder McGregor and Dr. Strong were the only starters. In the first heat Dr. Strong broke badly at the half mile. Wentworth and Snyder McGregor fought it out all the way around, the latter getting the decision by a neck in the post. Dr. Strong finished third, 10

BUILDING HOPES ON MAYOR HAYS

James A. Clark Says He Has Promised to Deliver 5,000 Payroll Votes to Berry.

LARKIN CALLED AN INGRATE

"Officially for Plummer, but actually for Berry," is the interpretation of the Citizens party's policy which is being given to Democrats, in order to make them satisfied with E. M. Bigelow's control of the Democratic organization. Thousands of Democrats in the county are angered at the slaughter of Berry in the house of fusion, and the story is now being told them that the payroll of the two cities, controlled by the Citizens party, and the attaches and adherents of the county offices controlled by Citizens will cast 5,000 votes for Berry.

County Commissioner James A. Clark is quoted everywhere as being the author of this statement, and Clark quotes no less an authority than Mayor Hays. While neither Democrats nor anybody else believes the Citizens party's leaders would hesitate to betray Plummer and make, if they could, 5,000 votes for Berry, it is generally known they cannot deliver the goods. Besides, it is only Mayor Hays who has made the promise, and everybody knows that E. M. Bigelow, and not the mayor, controls the Citizens organization, in addition to his recently proved ownership of the Democratic party in Allegheny county.

Votes to Be Given by Hays.

James A. Clark says in return for the Democratic indorsement of the Citizens candidates for county offices and for permitting the Citizens to indorse J. Lee Plummer, the Republican candidate for state treasurer, instead of William H. Berry, the Democratic candidate, Mayor Hays will see that the payrolls cast 5,000 votes for Berry by voting in the Democratic column, which, of course, in candidates for county offices, will be identically the same as the Citizens column. Men with whom Clark has talked, say that the county commissioner told them the mayor in person made him this promise.

W. S. Guffey, brother of Col. James M. Guffey, is not pleased with the unhorsing of his brother from the leadership of the county Democracy and the usurpation of the saddle by E. M. Bigelow. Before the Democrats gave way and allowed the Citizens to indorse Plummer, W. S. Guffey said, if that came to pass, he himself would take the stump against the Citizens candidates on the fusion ticket, although he would support the Democratic candidates. Yesterday Mr. Guffey reiterated this statement and took occasion to call Controller John B. Larkin an ingrate. Mr. Larkin had said that Mr. Guffey got associated with Senator William Flinn in the fight against elevated railroads in Pittsburgh and had never been able to sever his relations.

W. S. Guffey Worked for Larkin.

Mr. Guffey showed that long after the elevated railroad fight, in fact, last winter, when Larkin was nominated for controller, Larkin first asked him to accept the chairmanship of the Democratic city committee; that when he refused Larkin took up the best possible man he could have selected, George W. Guthrie; that then Larkin begged him, Guffey, to accept the chairmanship of the finance committee, and at Larkin's earnest and persistent solicitation Guffey gave way and gave Larkin the best and most faithful service he was capable of rendering.

"Did Mr. Larkin at that time, only a few months ago, doubt my Democracy?" asked Mr. Guffey. "Did he then believe that I was a Flinn adherent? If he has an atom of gratitude in him, should he not be ashamed of this stab in the back? I am earnestly supporting the candidacy of Mr. Berry for state treasurer; Mr. Flinn is supporting the candidacy of Mr. Plummer. Which of the two candidates will benefit by the recent conduct of Mr. Larkin?"

Mr. Guffey here refers to Larkin's activity in aiding Bigelow to have the Democrats agree to the use of Plummer's name in the Citizens column on the official ballot.

The Republican candidates for county offices met yesterday in conference with County Chairman Thomas J. Ford and City Chairman M. G. Leslie, to discuss the preliminaries for a vigorous campaign. Between them they discussed the personnel of the proposed six vice presidents of the organization, the committees on the conduct of the campaign, on finance and on speakers and meetings. Several men were picked out, and work will be finished soon. Beginning on Monday, the campaign committee will meet every week with the officers of the organization.

W. H. Stevenson, chairman of the Orphans party, said a meeting of the executive committee would probably be held next week. Mr. Stevenson would not say whether or not the Orphans would take any part in the coming county campaign.

JAMES MASON ARRESTED.

Promoter Taken Into Court When Sheriff Returned "No Goods" on His Bond.

Judge Young issued a warrant on which James Mason, who went on the bond of "Jack" McClelland, the prizefighter, who was sued by his wife for non-support, was brought into court. There is an attachment out for McClelland for contempt of court. Attorney L. K. Guller presented the petition for the arrest of Mason. McClelland had been ordered to pay his wife $4 a week. Mason became McClelland's bondsman. McClelland defaulted and suit was entered on the bond, resulting in a return of "no goods." The attorney claims Mason practiced a fraud upon the court.

In the petition it is alleged Mason swore before the alderman he had property worth $5,000 and that it was unincumbered. It is now alleged this is untrue. It is further alleged Mason told Clerk McDevitt that he was well worth the amount of the bond.

Mason was taken before Judge Frazer yesterday, who refused to take up the case in Judge Young's absence. Mason was released under a bond of $500 to appear when Judge Young returns.

MAN DYING OF STAB WOUNDS, TWO MEN ARE UNDER ARREST

Alex. Goldstein, aged 19, is dying of three stabs in the breast, and Max Catron, aged 22, and John Marc, aged 24, accused of the stabbing, are under arrest. All are Austrians. The affray occurred in the business section of Coraopolis about 9 o'clock last night, in the presence of scores of persons. The men had been conversing a few minutes when the stabbing took place. The cause of the trouble is unknown. The prisoners were arrested at their boarding house, and were apparently preparing to leave Coraopolis.

JUST 75 YEARS AFTER BABY COMES TO TOWN

Unique Coincidence Connected With Birthday Celebration of A. Klinordlinger.

Just three-quarters of a century to a day after the birth of its great-grandfather, a child was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Morgenstern of Allegheny yesterday. At the same time Mr. A. Klinordlinger of 300 Lincoln avenue, Bellevue, was receiving the congratulations of his relatives and friends upon arriving at his 75th birthday.

A. Klinordlinger.

Mr. Klinordlinger was born in Ichenhausen, Bavaria, September 28, 1830. While quite young he came to this country. For some years he lived in Franklin, Pa., coming to Pittsburgh about 35 years ago. Here he engaged in the wholesale liquor business at Tenth and Liberty streets, retiring only last year. Mr. Klinordlinger, who is a man of liberal views, has always been interested in public and philanthropic affairs. For years he was an active member of the board of trustees of the Rodeph Shalom congregation, Eighth street, and is one of the best-known men in the Jewish community. He has three children, eight grandchildren and three great-grandchildren, including the one born yesterday.

MISSIONARY WOMEN RAP THE POLICEMEN

Pass Resolutions Upon the Efforts to Have Morals of Police Bureau Probed.

At the convention of the Women's Missionary society of the Cumberland Presbyterian church, which is being held in the East End Presbyterian church, the morals of the Pittsburgh bureau of police were discussed by the women and hot shot flew thick and fast. The action of the other women's organizations in taking up the investigation of the police bureau was indorsed. The following resolutions were passed:

Resolved, That we indorse the action of the Allegheny County Union Missionary Society in ordering an investigation into the moral character of the policemen, to whom women must so often look for protection.

Resolved, That we are uncompromisingly opposed to any double standard of morality, and demand that it be the same for men as women.

Resolved, That we urge that the investigation begin with the head of the police bureau, as appointments are made by him.

With the "mashers" busy in the streets, women being insulted in street cars and kissing policemen abroad, Superintendent Wallace is waiting for a call from the members of the Women's Union Missionary society of Allegheny county. Wallace still laughs and insists he believes the women who are investigating the morals of the police bureau are joking. He refuses to believe the investigating committee has serious intentions.

Will Lecture for Missions.

A descriptive lecture, "In His Steps," with moving pictures and illustrated songs, will be given in the lecture room of the Bellefield Presbyterian church at 8 o'clock this evening by the Rev. E. P. Hummell. The affair is being conducted under the auspices of class No. 5 of the Sunday school connected with the Bellefield church. An admission fee will be charged and the proceeds used for missions.

House Is Flagued With Fever.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—The house occupied by the Klaus family, Mahoningtown, has not been free from typhoid fever during the last four years, save for short periods. A son died two years ago from the fever and there have been at least two cases annually. At present the father is critically ill.

ADDITIONAL SPORTING

DRAW IN A FIGHT AFTER SIX ROUNDS

ALTOONA, PA., Sept. 28.—After having all the advantage for three rounds, Kid Smith of Philadelphia was unable to follow the pace set for him by Joe Campbell of Washington, D. C., in a six-round fight here tonight, and was in bad shape when the gong sounded. Smith showed great cleverness and was able to land almost at will, at the same time cleverly blocking and getting away from punishment. He lacked stamina, however, and Campbell's superior endurance was the factor that held him up. He rushed Smith viciously in the later rounds, holding his opponent to the ropes and giving him a terrible beating. In the fifth round Smith was unable to fight back, but Campbell was unable to land a blow that would do the business. Smith recuperated and came back gamely in the sixth, but he was unable to ward off the blows that Campbell rained on head and body, and the end of the round came as a welcome relief. Campbell was apparently fresh and strong, but his blows did not seem to possess any great amount of steam.

West Newton Means Business.

Some time ago the managers of the West Newton and Bellevernon teams met and arranged a series of games for the championship of the two rivers and county. Five games were agreed upon, but only two were played, one at West Newton and one at Bellevernon, each team winning a game. Then Bellevernon, scheduled to play at West Newton, cancelled without a reason. West Newton immediately raised $1,000 and deposited it in a local bank and challenged Bellevernon to play the rest of the series. Half of the money has been left with the sporting editor of this paper to show that business was meant and will be left here until Tuesday, October 7, for Bellevernon to cover, or the entire $1,000 if they wish it.

Waddell In a Bad Way.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28.—Manager Connie Mack of the Philadelphia American league club is considerably worried over the loss of the services of Rube Waddell, his big left-hand pitcher. Waddell retired from the game at Boston September 9 in the third inning, complaining of a sore arm, and has not since been in a game except for a few minutes yesterday, when he found he could not get them over the plate and retired. The club's physicians have thus far been unable to determine the exact nature of the ailment of the big twirler.

Ten Innings at Homestead.

The baseball season came to a close in Homestead yesterday in one of the most magnificent games of the season at Steel Works park. The game at the end of the tenth inning was a tie, but owing to the fog that settled over the valley it was impossible to see the ball in the outfield and the game was called. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Homestead	3	5	1
Braddock	3	8	3

Carnegie Loses to Cory.

BROOKLINE, MASS., Sept. 28.—In the preliminary round for the Massachusetts golf championship, began yesterday, Andrew Carnegie Jr. of Pittsburgh, last year's champion, was defeated today by C. B. Cory of Wollaston by 1 up. Carnegie drew a bye yesterday.

GOLF FOR PRESIDENT'S CUP.

Handicap Saturday Will Bring Out the Players at Allegheny Country Club.

The tournament for the President's cup offered by Harry Darlington was begun yesterday at the Allegheny Country club and the qualifying round of 18 holes played. E. M. Byers, who has won the cup for the last three years, was not a contestant. He is in the city, but does not participate in the competition for the reason indicated. Under the conditions only eight qualify. They are: Their scores: H. F. Nevin, Jr., 75; A. K. Oliver, 76; George S. McCague, 83; H. D. McCandless, 84; J. F. Byers, 85; C. L. Shannon, 86; H. R. Rea, 88, and John Moorhead, Jr., 88.

The contestants who failed to qualify, with their scores, were: W. C. Robinson, 88; C. D. Thompson, 89; R. P. Nevin, Jr., 90; W. J. Patton, 97; Norman R. Hueston, 97, and G. M. McCandless, 101.

This afternoon the first match play round will be played. The contestants are paired as follows: R. P. Nevin, Jr., and John Moorhead Jr., A. K. Oliver and C. L. Shannon, G. S. McCague and H. R. Rea, H. D. McCandless and J. F. Byers.

The medal play handicap for the President's Handicap cup at 18 holes will be played Saturday afternoon. This cup is also offered by Mr. Darlington. This cup and the President's cup are duplicates and are very handsome. The handicap will bring out the biggest field that can be mustered at the club. The handicap will give every player an equal chance and all will turn out for it. Saturday will be a great day at the club in consequence.

Ladies Play at Edgeworth.

Yesterday was ladies' day on the links at the Edgeworth club, and they were out during the whole day. The competition was not on the regular schedule, but was a contest for a subscription cup at 27 holes of medal play, nine in the morning and 18 in the afternoon. The competition resulted in a tie between Mrs. R. P. Nevin, Jr., and Miss Martha Porter, which will be played off today. Mrs. Nevin offered the best golf of the day, playing from scratch and returning 141 for the 27 holes. Her 86 and 44 for the last 18 holes are record figures of the course for women. The Edgeworth club has the distinction of being now potentially the only club locally on which women have competitions. The scores were:

Mrs. R. P. Nevin, Jr.	81	46	44	141	0	141
Miss Martha Porter	86	50	50	142	0	141
Mrs. Robert Wardrop	57	82	55	194	21	143

CHILDREN ARE KILLED BY IMPURE FOOD

Hundred Thousand Perish Annually, Says Speaker at Meeting of Federation.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM FROM
ANNA R. STRATTON, Staff Correspondent.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., Sept. 28.—"While President Roosevelt preaches against race suicide, the United States senate allows the slaughter of 100,000 children annually."

This declaration was made at the afternoon session of the West Virginia Federation of Women's clubs today by William E. Ward, professor of English literature in Emerson college, Boston, Mass., and formerly of Syracuse university, N. Y. He spoke almost within sight of historic Blennerhasset Island in the Ohio river, the scene of the collapse of Aaron Burr's bubble of empire 100 years ago.

Mr. Ward was speaking on the pure food question. He continued:

"Adulterated food forms the bulk of the food of the poor people and the foreigners. Though individual states have good laws, they are not effective because unscrupulous manufacturers will import into another state unlabelled goods which they cannot sell in their own. Until a national law prohibiting this interstate commerce is passed and becomes effective, this slaughter will continue. It is up to the senate which twice has killed such a measure passed readily through the house of representatives, whose members are chosen by the people. Until the election of United States senators has also been placed in the hands of the people nothing better can be expected. And that day is coming soon."

The influence and power of women's clubs in the molding of public opinion was emphasized. Mr. Ward citing as evidence the fact that a year ago when the pure food question became a conspicuous line of work taken up by the women's clubs throughout the country in accordance with the action of the general Federation of Women's clubs, only half the states had laws affecting the manufacture and sale of adulterated food. Now all the states have some law touching that question.

"The adult American is now practically immune to the poison in adulterated foods through their long use," said Mr. Ward, "but the children and the foreigners, just arrived, are the ones who suffer."

The women's clubs throughout the country are united in this propaganda for pure food.

At this afternoon's session J. W. Swartz, superintendent of the schools of Parkersburg, presented a strong plea for the introduction of manual training and domestic science in the schools, a work which the West Virginia Federation of Women's clubs is taking up in cities and towns throughout the state this year. An encouraging report on education in the south was made, showing the promotion of the Panama canal project has been indirectly a stimulus to education in the southern states, the impetus given to railroad building and other industrial activities resulting in lengthening the school year from three or four months to as many as ten months in some localities.

The address of welcome to the federation was made by Mrs. W. H. Smith, Jr., president of the entertaining club, the Women's Literary club of Parkersburg. Mrs. Guy R. C. Allen of Wheeling, the president of the State Federation, responding. The morning session was largely given up to the reports of the standing committees, showing the work which has been accomplished in education, civics, traveling libraries, traveling art galleries and forestry.

The work in forestry as yet is confined to the appointment of committees in the different clubs whose work is to acquaint themselves and the members of their clubs with the natural resources of West Virginia and the needs which arise for the preservation of the forest lands. A very large part of the state is still untouched, but the buying up of great tracts of lands by lage corporations has given rise to a fear that unless active measures are taken speedily West Virginia will lose a great portion of its magnificent forests through wastefulness and neglect.

The evening session was given up to a lecture by Miss Anna Caulfield, well-known in Pittsburgh, where she has lectured before the Twentieth Century club. Miss Caulfield spoke on "American Art and Mural Decoration in America," her lecture being illustrated with stereopticon views of the works of distinctive American artists of the present—Sargent, Whistler, Chase, Cecilia Beaux, LaFarge and Blashfield, together with examples of mural art as seen in the congressional library in Washington, D. C., and the Boston public library.

Tomorrow morning the second annual meeting of the federation will close with a meeting of the new executive board.

The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows: President, Mrs. R. H. Thomas, Parkersburg; vice presidents, Mrs. Charles S. Morrison, Wheeling; Mrs. John Driscoll, Ronceverte; Mrs. J. R. Strickling, Sistersville, and Mrs. M. W. Sloan, Huntington; corresponding secretary, Mrs. C. J. Proudfoot, Parkersburg; federation secretary, Mrs. Guy R. C. Allen, Wheeling; treasurer, Mrs. Milton McNellan, Parkersburg; auditor, Miss Ida Armstrong, Point Pleasant.

SOCIETY

ONE of the most interesting social events of the fall will be the wedding of Miss Ethel M. Craig and Charles H. E. Succop, for which Miss Craig has chosen Tuesday, October 24 as the date. The marriage will be quietly solemnized at 6 o'clock in the evening at the residence of Miss Craig's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Craig, in Rebecca street, East End. Only the immediately relatives will witness the ceremony, which will be performed by the Rev. Dr. Daniel Dorchester, Jr., pastor of Christ Methodist Episcopal church. No at home days have been set, but upon returning from their wedding trip Mr. Succop and his bride will receive their friends in North Craig street. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Succop of South Negley and Ellsworth avenue, East End.

Annual Reception Is Held.

There was an unusually large crowd of visitors at the Home for Aged Protestant Women in Wilkinsburg yesterday afternoon on the occasion of the annual reception from 2 until 5 o'clock. As usual the work of the inmates of the home was placed on sale and nearly all articles were disposed of. The guests were received by a committee composed of Mrs. Samuel McKee, Miss Matilda Smith, Mrs. Jane Corman, Miss Bradley, Mrs. Alexander M. Speer and Mrs. Edwin Stowe. The committee in charge of the sales table included Mrs. James Scott, Mrs. Robert Brown, Mrs. Thomas MacConnell, Mrs. Samuel Fisher, Mrs. Ed M. Bigelow, Mrs. Heberton Negley, Mrs. Stephen McCandless and Miss Scott, while on the refreshment committee were Miss Mary Louise Jackson, Mrs. W. G. Wilkins, Mrs. Durbin Horne, Mrs. Dallas Irish, Miss Gorman and Mrs. Harry W. Bickel. The members of the board expect to formally open the new addition to the home during the middle of the coming month, as work on the kitchen, dining-room, bedroom and hospital room, which the addition includes, is progressing rapidly.

Jones-Walker.

Miss Almira D. Jones, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. L. L. Jones, was married last evening to Dr. Robert L. Walker, Jr., of Carnegie, the ceremony being performed by the bride's father, who is pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Carnegie, at the parsonage in Lydia street. The matron of honor was Mrs. C. C. Hankey of Kittanning and the bridesmaids Miss Pearl Jones, a sister of the bride, and Miss Hannah Reese of Carnegie. Robert H. Hardy of Carnegie was best man. Miss Susan Walker was ringbearer. The groom is a son of Dr. R. L. Walker, also a well-known physician of Carnegie. The wedding was a quiet one, and 50 guests were present. Dr. and Mrs. Walker left for a tour of eastern cities.

Stoke-Deuerlein.

Miss Mary Dorothy Stocke and Lewis Deuerlein of Wilkinsburg were quietly married last evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Stocke, in Heberton avenue, East End. The Rev. Mr. Woerner, pastor of Zion Evangelical church of this city, performed the ceremony, and after the wedding supper the bridal couple left for the east. Upon their return they will reside in Kelly street, Homewood.

Christian-Kreible Wedding Plans.

The Rev. Dr. Daniel Dorchester, Jr., pastor of Christ Methodist Episcopal church, will officiate at the coming wedding of Miss Pearl Roberta Christian and Percy E. Kreible, the latter of Germantown. The wedding is dated for Wednesday evening, October 11, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Pels Christian, in Bryant street, East End. The only attendants will be Miss Sarah Christian, a sister of the bride, and Frank L. Hagner of Philadelphia. The reception following the ceremony will be conducted between the hours of 8:30 and 10 o'clock.

Post Nuptial Announcement.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Nininger have issued cards announcing the marriage of their daughter, Miss Bennie Lee Nininger, to William Landes Shafer on Tuesday, September 26, at "Stone Mansion," Daleville, Va. The Rev. T. C. Denton, an uncle of the bride, performed the ceremony. After a wedding trip to Roanoke, Harrisburg, Buffalo, Cleveland and Dayton Mr. Shafer will bring his bride to this city, where they will receive their friends after October 24, in Broadway, West Liberty. "Stone Mansion" is the ancestral home of the Nininger family.

Miss Wetherton Is Honor Guest.

Miss May Wetherton, the bride-elect of Earl W. Brown, was honor guest at a daintily appointed little luncheon given yesterday by Miss Jean McCloy of Stanton avenue, East End. The guests were the girls whom Miss Wetherton has chosen to attend her at her coming wedding. The luncheon decorations were in pink roses and the same flowers were distributed among the guests as favors.

Reno-Bowman.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss E. Ethel Reno of Rochester and George A. Bowman of Wilkinsburg, which occurred on Monday evening of this week. Mr. Bowman is connected with the Pittsburgh office of the Warren-Ehret Roofing Company of Philadelphia. For the present he and his bride will make their home in Rochester.

Early November Wedding.

Miss Susan Vallante Tiers and Dr. William Herron Cameron are to have a very quiet wedding on Wednesday, November 8. It will be an evening wedding, 8 o'clock being the hour set, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. LaRue Tiers, in Oakmont.

Is Hostess at Cards.

Miss Katherine Macrum of Oakmont was hostess at an informal card party of a half dozen tables yesterday afternoon. Six-hand euchre was the game played and the prizes were won by Mrs. L. L. Little, Mrs. Clarence F. Tiers and Mrs. Louise McLure.

Notes of Society.

Miss Anna Gilmore of Center avenue, East End, will leave for Rogers Hall school, Lowell, Mass., next Monday, and will be accompanied east by her parents.

A peach and ice cream festival will be held in the Beuna Vista Methodist Episcopal church, Allegheny, this evening. A musical and literary entertainment will be features of the affair.

A euchre and reception for the benefit of the school will be given by the members of St. Andrew's Roman Catholic congregation, Allegheny, at the Waldorf, on Thursday evening, October 12.

In the Sewickley private kindergarten a lecture was given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Langvatel of New York, who is a guest of Mrs. Edward A. Woods. She talked on kindergarten work. After the lecture tea was served by Mrs. Woods.

Among the Clubs.

Pittsburgh Joint Committee Meets.

A regular meeting of the joint committee of woman's clubs for Pittsburgh playgrounds, vacation schools and recreation parks was held in the Twentieth Century clubhouse yesterday morning. The meeting was a very interesting one and was attended by a large proportion of the committee members. Thursday, October 26, was selected as the date for the annual meeting to be held at the Twentieth Century club. Miss Beulah Kennard, the general chairman, was empowered to call a meeting of the presidents of the clubs composing the joint committee with the members of the executive board of the committee to consider some changes in the plans of organization. In addition to this there was much general discussion of the work.

"Sunny Side of Life."

"Sunny Side of Life" is the title of a lecture which Dr. James Hedley of Cleveland gave last evening and will repeat this evening in the association building, Penn and Seventh streets, under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian association. The lecture is one in a course of monthly entertainments which also includes the Rosa Linde Concert Company, Whitney Brothers' quartet, the Dunbar company of male quartet and bell ringers, Frank R. Robertson, traveler and lecturer, Alberto G. Rosati and his Royal Italian band, Ian Jackson Concert Company, Spillman Riggs, lecturer, and Miss Edna Dorothea Rether, reader.

Notes from Dixie Land.

A most attractive little booklet has been issued by the Woman's Southern society of Pittsburgh. Among the interesting subjects announced in the book are "The Dialects of Dixie," "Famous Southern Women," "Famous Southern Homes," "Pittsburgh, the Home of the Southern Society," "Readings from Southern Poets," "Old Southern Songs," "Louisiana Sketches," "Southern Housewives," "Heirlooms and Miniatures," "Southerners in Dramatics," and "Historic Incidents of Dixie."

New Era Book Out.

The year book of the New Era club of Western Pennsylvania has just been issued. It is bound in dark green and silver and, as usual, the frontispiece is a cluster of pink and red carnations, the club flowers. The theme for the coming season is "Milestones on the March to Universal Peace." President's day will be observed at the home of Mrs. Norwood Johnston in Rebecca street on October 11.

Heather Flavor at the Lyceum.

The Pittsburgh Lyceum Novelty club will inaugurate its fall and winter social season tonight with a party which it calls "The Gathering of the Clans." It is positively said that dancing will be done to the lilting tune of many old Scotch airs and that the party will be one of the most unique of the unique ones given by the Novelty club.

Club Will Hold Sale.

The women composing the Home and Hospital club of Bellevue will hold their annual cake and pie sale tomorrow afternoon from 2 until 5 o'clock in the Women's Christian Temperance union rooms, Lincoln avenue, Bellevue.

CONSTABULARY TO BEAT THE WORLD

Capt. Groome Proposes to Have the Best State Police Force in Existence.

WILL BORROW FOREIGN IDEAS

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
HARRISBURG, Sept. 28.

Pennsylvania will have one of the best, if not the best, state constabulary in the world if the hopes of Capt. John C. Groome, superintendent of the force about to be organized, are realized. Instead of patterning the force in this state after the constabulary of any one country, it is the purpose of Capt. Groome to take the best features of each of these together with some ideas of his own, and work them into a system for the government of the Pennsylvania police force.

Capt. Groome is much impressed with the constabulary of Ireland, from which country he returned today, from a visit for the express purpose of studying this system, with a view of adopting part of it, at least, in Pennsylvania. He said that the Irish constabulary was the finest body of men he had ever seen and that he was much impressed with the character of men of which it is composed and the regulations by which it is governed.

It was impossible, however, to compare the Irish constables with the 1,500 applicants for appointment on the Pennsylvania state police force, because Capt. Groome has seen comparatively few of these applicants and has not yet received the report of Dr. Francis D. Patterson on his physical examinations. Capt. Groome has reports on the constabularies of several other countries, which he is studying in order that he may better devise a system for the government of the Pennsylvania force, which he expects to recruit, organize and equip the next 60 days.

He has not made a single appointment on the force, which will be composed of 239 officers and men, and it is not his purpose to make any appointments until after all the applicants have taken a mental examination. The captain will come to Harrisburg again on Monday to report the result of his observations in Ireland to Gov. Pennypacker, who was at Hanover today, attending the dedication of the soldiers' monument.

HEPTASOPHS AT THE EXPO.

They Take Possession of Big Show at Point—Good Programs for This Afternoon.

Heptasophs of Western Pennsylvania with several hundred members of the Second Pennsylvania regiment, took possession of the Exposition yesterday afternoon and evening. The headquarters was at the chamber of commerce exhibit in the main building. The Heptasophs' quartet added much to the attractiveness of the occasion, filling the immense hall with song during the evening.

Creatore had arranged an excellent programa, not too ponderous, but just the kind of music to please the multitudes. This was evident by the manner in which it was received at both afternoon and evening concerts. Signor Charles Granville, the baritone soloist, who was brought from New York for the concert last night, and who will appear again this evening with Creatore and his band, is a singer of more than average power and ability. This afternoon's program follows:

2 P. M.

March, "Tossing Hearts".....Creatore
Overture, "Der Freischutz".....Weber
Intermezzo, "Narcissa".....Nevin
Pan Americana.....Herbert

4 P. M.

Largo.....Handel
Waltz, "Tres Jolie".....Waldteufel
Harp Solo, "Danse de Sylphe".....Godefroid
Signor C. Sodero.
Selection, "The Army Chaplain".....Millocker

CANNOT COLLECT TAXES.

Collector Resigns in Disgust, and East McKeesport Needs Money.

Owing to the difficulty of getting the taxes in the borough of East McKeesport, Collector Anderson Lytle has resigned in disgust. E. H. Palmer, who had almost decided to accept the place, when he learned of the red tape necessary to secure it, refused to be a candidate. The result is that while both the school board and the council need money, there is no one to collect it.

With only four months of time left in which to make returns, the situation is becoming acute. The borough has no other means of providing the funds.

CHANCE TO BECOME KING.

Prince Charles of Denmark Has Good Prospect of Being Made Sovereign of Norway.

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 28.—It is learned on high authority that should Norway's offer of the throne of that country to a prince of the house of Barnadotte be definitely declined during the coming week, steps will be taken by the storthing to invite Prince Charles of Denmark to become king of Norway.

It is believed that not more than 10 members of the storthing are opposed to Prince Charles' candidacy. King Christian and the British court favor it.

MILLIKEN UNIVERSTY IS TO GET TWO MILLION DOLLARS

MARTINSVILLE, IND., Sept. 28.—At today's session of the Indiana synod of the Cumberland Presbyterian church it was announced the $100,000 necessary to secure the gift of $900,000 offered by James Milliken of Decatur, Ill., for the university at that place bearing his name, would be raised and that Mr. Milliken had offered a million dollars more to the university provided $80,000 additional was raised by 1908. It was stated that this money would also be secured.

"Humpty Dumpty."

The opening day of the sale of seats at the Nixon theater yesterday for the forthcoming engagement of Klaw & Erlanger's big Drury Lane spectacle, "Humpty Dumpty," indicates two weeks extraordinary success for this big production, which is said to eclipse in magnitude and beauty any of its predecessors shown here. There are three acts and 12 elaborate scenes used in the play, and some 2,000 costumes shown. The principals of the excellent cast are Frank Moulan, Maude Lillian Berri, Nellie Daly, William C. Schrode, George Schiller, John McVeigh, Joseph F. Smith, Diamond Donner, Grace Greenleaf, William Fables and a new troupe of the Grigolatis aerialists.

Will Establish a Gymnasium.

The managers of the Western Pennsylvania manual training schools for foreigners near Bridgeville, were notified yesterday that the Pittsburgh Coal Company had granted to them the use of the large storeroom at Traveskyn for a gymnasium. The school has four departments in operation now and a gymnasium will be of very great value to the work. It is expected that a charter for the schools will be asked for shortly.

"Checkers" at Alvin.

"Checkers" is coming to town again. It will be seen here for a week at the Alvin, commencing next Monday, with the same large and efficient cast seen during its just completed engagement in New York and now in Chicago. The eminent young actor, Hans Robert, now plays the part of Checkers; Katherine Mulkins will be seen again in the part of his sweetheart, and Lewis Braham, Jr., the part of the race track tout, which he created.

CANAL ENGINEERS SAIL FOR COLON

Will Return to Report on Best Kind of Waterway to Be Built.

T. B. SHONTS HEADS THE PARTY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—The board of consulting engineers and several members of the Panama canal commission sailed today for Colon on the steamship Havana. Their purpose is to inspect the work already done on the canal and also its proposed route, in order to report to the commission the best kind of a canal to build.

In the party were Theodore P. Shonts, chairman of the commission; Rear Admiral M. T. Endicott; Col. O. H. Ernst; and B. M. Marrod, all of the canal commission. Speaking of the work to be accomplished by the present trip, Mr. Shonts said:

"How long the board of engineers will remain on the isthmus, is a question I cannot answer. I personally invited them to visit Panama.

"In theory, the board has considered the three proposed plans for the building of the canal—the sea level canal, the lock canal and the lock and lake canal. They will give these plans careful consideration on the ground and then report. It does not follow, however, the canal commission will be bound to follow their advice.

"If they give a unanimous report in favor of a certain kind of canal, it is probable the commission will favor that form of canal as being the very best. If they give a majority and a minority report, it will rest entirely with the commission which one to accept or whether to reject both. The commission advises the president of its decision, and he in turn notifies congress."

Sailing with the members and the advisory board of engineers on the Havana were: Assistant Secretary of the Navy Charles H. Darling, Senator Joseph H. Millard of Nebraska, Congressman Irving P. Wanger of Pennsylvania and J. E. Markey, who was recently awarded the contract to furnish food to the canal employes.

CEMETERY VANDAL CAUGHT.

Police of Ishpeming Arrest Fanatical Hungarian as He Is About to Smash a Tombstone.

ISHPEMING, MICH., Sept. 28.—The man suspected of having wrecked tombstones in a number of cemeteries in Wisconsin and Northern Michigan in the last two weeks and captured by police today as he was about to break a gravestone in the Ishpeming cemetery. He is a Hungarian, 46 years old and answers the description of the man suspected of having committed similar depredations in Escanaba and Gladstone.

The prisoner was shabbily dressed and apparently was half-starved. Wrapped in a handkerchief he carried a turnip, part of a Catholic prayerbook and other devotional emblems. When asked why he had attempted to break the tombstone he replied in poor English that he did it "for the good of God."

SUEZ CANAL DAMAGED.

Blowing Up of Wrecked British Ship Destroys Part of the Waterway's Embankment.

PORT SAID, EGYPT, Sept. 28.—The wreck of the British steamer Chatham, with her cargo of 90 tons of dynamite and blasting gelatine, was blown up this morning by mines distributed around and inside her hull. These were fired by an electric current fom Raselech, about five miles away.

A huge column of water, sand and the ship's wreckage was thrown 2,000 feet in the air and in falling destroyed 600 feet of the east bank of the canal. Divers immediately commenced removing the debris. The canal population in the vicinity of the scene of the explosion left early in the morning for the seashore, closing the banks and stores, which were guarded by police.

QUEEN CITY REPUBLICANS NOMINATE A TICKET

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 28.—At the city and county convention today, the Republicans nominated for mayor, Harry L. Gorton, who has for the past two years, been vice mayor; vice mayor, William Rendig; city solicitor, John G. O'Connell; city treasurer, William E. Hutton; county treasurer, Rudolph K. Hynicka, renominated; probate court judge, Charles F. Malsbury, renominated.

Stewart Has Lande's Story.

Major Stewart is examining the testimony of H. A. Lande with reference to his part in having the bill against George Loughran and Matt Cavanaugh, Jr., ignored. If the occasion justifies it he will give Superintendent Wallace a chance to present his facts. Superintendent Wallace believes he has unearthed a conspiracy to prevent the two men from being tried, and said yesterday he is at the district attorney's service any time he wishes to call upon him.

BANK OF ENGLAND RATE, 4; NEW YORK CALL RATE, 5

Pinch in New York Money Conditions Becomes Very Perceptible and Speculation Is Stagnated—Local Stocks Inactive.

There was a perceptible pinch in New York money conditions yesterday and the stock market showed the effect, although the course of money has been very definitely and confidently foreseen. Both call loans and time loans rates were quoted higher, call loans going to 5 per cent and the supply was obviously growing scarcer. Some slight effect on prices of stocks was produced, but the principle result in the stock market was the stagnation of the speculation.

Various factors conduced to the course of the money market. Doubtless there is an extensive shifting of loans going on to prepare for the great syndicate operations which fall due in tomorrow, but aside from this the actual cash reserves of the banks are subject to increasing drain.

The event of the day was the advance in the Bank of England discount rate of a full 1 per cent to 4 per cent, carrying it back to the level of two years ago, since which time it has progressively declined until the advance of three weeks ago. The proportion of the bank's reserve to liabilities is down to 40.03 per cent, which is lower than the reserve has stood for many years. It compares with the percentage of 57½ this time last year. The action of the the bank is thus made clear, even after allowance is made for the large amount of gold in its possession which is "ear-marked" for the Indian government and which does not figure in the reserve. It is confidently expected that the Imperial Bank of Germany will imitate the English bank at its next meeting. The advance in the sterling rate at Paris also indicated the effect on the Paris money market.

The effect will be to throw obstacles in the way of the movement of gold to New York. The price of gold was marked down in London apparently in the confidence that the rise in the bank rate would prove an efficient protection. The foreign exchange market in New York, however, receded in spite of the hardening of foreign money markets. The rise in local money rates seemingly prompted renewed offerings of bankers' bills.

It was reported also that some increase in the supply of cotton bills was perceptible in the exchange market. This was the result of the sharp break of the two days in the price of cotton, which has brought in new buying for foreign account in that market after the demand from that source practically has been suspended owing to the high level of prices induced by the speculation in cotton.

On the side of the domestic currency movement Chicago reported a free shipment of funds from that center to the agricultural districts, and the New York rate of exchange at Chicago receded to 20 cents discount, as a result of transferring the pressure to the New York market.

The loss of the banks to the sub-treasury was extended to over $5,000,000 for the week, compared with the gain of over $1,000,000 for the corresponding period of last week. In addition $200,000 was deposited at the sub-treasury for telegraphic transfer to New Orleans and a credit balance by the sub-treasury at the clearing house today indicated the taking up of another large sum by that institution to figure in the next bank statement. Several parcels of gold have arrived from Europe during the week, which will be a partial offset. The resumption of refunding announced by the secretary of the treasury made a good impression, but the relief to the money market by this method will depend on the taking out of new circulation, which may result and will operate but slowly at the best.

One or two stocks showed some degree of strength and helped to sustain the market, notably Southern Pacific, which was the subject of revived rumors of early dividend action. The late movement in Chesapeake & Ohio was similar, but was of slight effect on the closing tone, which was easy. An additional item to be considered in next week's money market will be the payment of New York taxes, the requirements for which are estimated at between $20,000,000 and $30,000,000 during the week.

Bonds were dull and heavy. Total sales, par value, $2,025,000. United States 2s declined ⅜ on call.

Transactions on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday lacked both interest and volume. The total was but 2,382 shares of stock and $7,000 bonds. The one feature out of the ordinary was the increased price of oil, which had its due effect upon the stock of the Pittsburgh Oil and Gas Company. The dealings, which involved 230 shares of this security, ranged between 65 and 66½. Crucible Steel common again was a fairly large equation in the day's doings, but there was only a fractional variation in its price, and it closed unchanged at 13. There were no dealings in the preferred. Apparently the speculative element has loaded up to its capacity in anticipation of the favorable report which is expected to appear within a week.

Pittsburgh Coal preferred came out to the extent of 230 shares and closed at 57½, a loss of ⅜. Tonopah Extension, with dealings in 240 shares, closed at $6, a loss of 5 cents. Merchants Savings and Trust, as well as the bonds of the Independent Brewing Company, Pittsburgh and Allegheny Telephone Company and River Coal Company were all unchanged.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

Easily the most important announcement locally yesterday affecting any stock values was the advance in the Standard Oil Company's quotation on credit balances. The market prices were marked up 5 cents on Pennsylvania, Tiona, Second Sand and Corning, and 2 cents on North and South Lima, Indiana and Somerset. In addition the Standard's Kansas company, the Prairie Oil and Gas Company, advanced quotations on fuel oil from the field operated there 10 cents a barrel.

Since September 12, or little more than a fortnight, the Standard has advanced the price of Pennsylvania Oil 24 cents. The confident predictions are made, based on the condition of the market, the crippling of the Russian industry, the small production and the depletion of stocks, that Pennsylvania oil will reach $2 before the year is over.

Pittsburgh Oil and Gas, which has a production of 2,500 barrels daily, was naturally the first to feel the effects of the advance and the stock recovered rapidly from the decline which it has experienced in the last two days. It reached a high mark of 66½ and closed at 66, an advance for the day of two full points.

Basic iron has again this week come into large demand and heavy purchases are being recorded. Mahoning and Shenango valley and New Jersey furnaces have taken new contracts aggregating 60,000 tons. The sales were made in lots of from 5,000 to 10,000 tons each, one steel company taking 25,000 and another 34,500 tons. Of these sales 10,000 tons brought $15 75 and the balance $16 delivered. Shipments are to begin immediately and continue during the last quarter of this and the first quarter of next year.

Local interest in the big decline in Chicago Subway stock is the greater because the Pittsburgh Subway Company, backed by ex-Senator William Flinn, has already been formed in anticipation of the success of the Chicago project. Albert G. Wheeler, president of the Illinois Tunnel Company, and a director of the Chicago Subway Company, is quoted as follows in regard to the decline in the stock: "We don't know anything about those curb operations in Chicago Subway. I didn't even know of the fall in the stock till the market closed. We spent our time trying to further the interests of the property and we are bothering them. The buying and selling of the stock by brokers is of little or no interest to the officials of the company. No, I do not know of anything which could have caused the fall." Another representative of the company said: "There is nothing physically or financially wrong with the property. It is in fine shape, its position is stronger than it has ever been, and it is now beginning to realize returns from the millions of dollars that have been expended in tunnel construction. It is estimated that the teaming business of Chicago amounts to $50,000,000 a year, of which the Chicago Subway expects to secure 20 per cent, or at the rate of $10,000,000 a year, by January 1."

The resignation of Robert Bacon as a director of the United States Steel Corporation will soon be followed by similar announcements by other corporations with which Mr. Bacon is associated in the capacity of a director. As is generally known, the retirement of Mr. Bacon from active participation in the affairs of corporations is due to his appointment as assistant secretary of state. Mr. Bacon is a member of the boards of the following corporations: Bank for Savings, Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, Clearwater & Raquette Lake railroad, Edison Electric Illuminating Company, Erie railroad, Federal Steel, Fulton Chain railway, Fulton Navigation Company, Hocking Valley railroad, Manhattan Trust Company, Nassau Gas, Heat and Power Company, New England railroad, North American Company, Northern Securities Company, Outing Publishing Company, Raquette Lake railroad and West Shore railroad.

*And interest.

The appraisement of the estate of the late Adrian Iselin shows that Mr. Iselin left a total estate of $16,332,956, from which is to be paid $834,065 for debts and expenses. The records of the state appraiser show that $14,926,906 is personal property and $1,497,050 real estate, and that Adrian, William E., Columbus O'Donnell and Charles Oliver Iselin are the executors. The fortune left by Mr. Iselin is divided among his children.

There has been listed on the Philadelphia stock exchange $2,000,000 additional capital stock of the Westmoreland Coal Company.

The plan of reorganization of the Horseshoe Mining Company, in which Pittsburghers are largely interested, is progressing favorably and it now appears as if the plan will be carried out as outlined by the reorganization committee, which includes Mark W. Watson, E. B. Alsop, R. H. Binns and W. J. McLaughlin. The Union Trust Company is receiving the deposits of the stock and bonds, pending the reorganization.

The Rock Run Fuel Company has declared a quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent, payable October 25.

The Union Trust Company of Pittsburgh will finance the building of a 25-mile inter-urban railway between Everett and Seattle, Wash., costing $2,000,000. A mortgage on the right of way, franchises and equipment of the company to the Union Trust Company has been recorded. The money is to be advanced as the work progresses. Five per cent 30-year gold bonds will be issued.

Pittsburgh & Duluth was active yesterday on the local "curb." Sales amounting to 300 shares were made yesterday at 26½. North Butte, another unlisted mining stock, reached a local high mark of 50 yesterday, the sales aggregating 500 shares.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

When the American Mining congress convenes in El Paso on November 14, there will also be a "congress of governors" present, as arrangements are being made to have the governors of Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, Chihuahua and Sonora—Lanham, Kelly, Creel and Ysabel—present for the big event, since each of the states and territories named has large mineral interests and will send big delegations to the congress. There will be a number of other governors present, it is believed, especially from the northwest.

The United Copper company is engaged in a general overhauling of its properties in the Butte district. New machinery is being placed at a number of the mines, shafts are being relimbered and repairs made in the underground equipment and timbering. Two air compressors have been received for the Rarus and Corra mines. The machine at the Rarus will supply air for both the Rarus and Minnie Healey mines and the one at the Corra will supply that property and the Lexington, upon which latter Mr. Heinze has a lease and bond. The new pumps will cost $40,000 and will have a capacity of 4,000 cubic feet of air per minute.

The decision of the brokers of Goldfield, Nev., to organize the Goldfield Mining Stock exchange was unanimous. About 50 brokers attended the preliminary meetings and all displayed the greatest interest. This project was under discussion last spring, but there was a difference in opinion then among the brokers and the idea was allowed to slumber. Times have changed and a few Goldfield stocks that were then being exploited can no longer be sold at any price, stock exchange or no stock exchange, and a few brokers who were then selling wildcats are either under indictment or are in jail, or have lost all business standing.

Exclusive of special school levies Shoshone county and the state will receive from the principal mining companies in the Coeur d'Alenes for 1905, $114,204 20. The entire valuation of the county is approximately $5,148,000. The levy for this year was fixed at $3 per $100. This will bring the total tax of the county to $184,440, over 60 per cent of which sum is assessed to the various mining companies.

Besides the improvements the mining companies are assessed upon their net profits, which were reported at $2,961,811 60. The improvements of the various companies were assessed upon a valuation of $809,238.

The Metal Market.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Another slight advance was reported in the English tin market with spot quoted at £147 2s 6d and futures at £145 17s 6d. Locally the market was steady with spot quoted at $32 90@32 95. Copper was also higher abroad, though without showing the developments expected in view of the talk of an October corner. Spot closed at £71 2s 6d and futures at £70 5s. Locally the market was quiet and quotations appear to be more or less nominal in the absence of important transactions. Lake is held at $16 25@16 50. Electrolytic at $16 12½@16 25, and casting at $15 75@16 12½. Lead was unchanged at $4 85@4 90 in the local market, and at £14 2s 6d abroad. Spelter was a shade higher, at £27 7s 6d in London and remained firm here, at $5 55@5 65. Iron was firm to higher in the foreign markets, with standard foundry closing at 52s 6d and Middlesboro at 47s 10½d. Locally the market shows an advancing tendency, with northern grades held higher. No. 1 foundry northern is quoted at $17 50@17 75, No. 2 foundry northern at $17 00@17 25, No. 1 foundry southern at $16 50@16 75, and No. 2 foundry southern at $16 00@16 25.

FEATURES OF THE DAY

IN PITTSBURGH	IN WALL STREET
Market was dull, with total sales of 2,382 shares of stock and $7,000 bonds.	Total sales dropped to 423,300 shares of stock and $3,025,000 bonds.
Advance in oil quotations caused a two-point gain in Pittsburgh Oil & Gas.	Bank of England rate was advanced a full per cent to 4.
Crucible Steel common, Ohio Fuel, Ohio Tonopah, Pittsburgh Coal preferred, Pittsburgh Oil & Gas and Tonopah Extension furnished three-fourths of the transactions.	Call loans went to 5 per cent.
Bank Exchanges were $7,638,422.81, an increase of $1,394,409.11 over same day last year.	Banks have lost $5,000,000 already to the sub-treasury this week.
	Only a couple of stocks showed strength, but this helped to sustain the market.

STOCKS ARE IRREGULAR WITH HEAVY TENDENCY

Market Apparently Pays Little Heed to Unfavorable Monetary Developments.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—The Herald this (Friday) morning says: Stocks were somewhat irregular yesterday, with a heavy tendency. Practically all active issues lost ground during the day upon what looked like slow liquidation. Aside from this very moderate seller movement the business of the day was professional. The feature was really the prevailing dullness. Activity was further curtailed and there was little to relieve the monotony of the trading.

Measured by the day's developments, rather than by the price changes, it must be said that the market paid very little heed to unfavorable news in the money market. The warnings are plain enough for any one to see. The Bank of England does not jump its maximum discount rate one per cent for nothing, and the advances of money and discounts abroad would seem to indicate that the growing stringency in the money markets of the world is not domestic, but international.

The news developments of the day centered entirely around the money situation. The most important feature of all was naturally the advance in the Bank of England discount rate from 3 to 4 per cent, a rate exceeded but three times in five years. Locally, so far as money was concerned, the chief point of interest was the continued draw of currency from banks to the government, which figures up a loss of $5,052,000 since Friday.

Call money advanced 1 per cent and exchange eased off. Chicago subway on the curb rallied and broke again, with a second late rally. Rumor was again busy with the names of those injured by the collapse, but they really had less influence than on the preceding day. The curious maneuvering in order to find some way for Erie to finance the Hamilton & Dayton purchase was void of influence.

Foreign Money Markets.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—The money market was much affected today by pay day requirements and the maturing of treasury bills during the call for $2,500,000 of the Japanese loan tomorrow. The remarks included with the change in the Bank of England's rate. Trading on the stock exchange was quiet and uneven. The rise from 3 to 4 per cent in the Bank of England's discount rate depressed prices slightly in places, the market being prepared for the change, but was comparatively firm in the morning, but closed easier, though above the lowest quotation of the day. Home rails were irregular. Americans opened dull and eased off on the announcement of the increase in the discount rate of the Bank of England, though the movements were fractional and irregular. Illinois Central was exceptionally strong. The market closed quiet. Foreigners were neutral, dealers awaiting the outcome of the Paris settlement. Japanese Imperial 4s of 1905 were quoted at 85. Canada for money, 9¾; checks for the account, 10 7-16; bar silver steady at 26 7-16d; do silver, quiet, 26½d per ounce; the rate of discount for short bills is 2½ per cent; the rate of discount for three months' bills is 2 15-16@3 per cent.

PARIS, Sept. 29.—Prices on the Bourse today were firm. The increase of the Bank of England's rate of discount 4½ did not make any impression, the change being expected. Russian Imperial 4s were quoted at 86.94 and Russian bonds 4½ at 78¾. The private discount rate was 2½ per cent. Three per cent rentes, 99 francs 70 centimes for the account. Exchange on London, 25 francs 15½ centimes for checks.

BERLIN, Sept. 29.—Trading on the bourse today opened gaingly, but prices closed firmer. Exchange on London, 20 marks 42½ pfg. for checks. Discount rates, 4½ per cent for short bills. Consols, 1¾ per cent; three months' bills, 3¾ per cent.

Foreign Bank Statements.

PARIS, Sept. 28.—The weekly statement of the Bank of France shows the following changes: Notes in circulation increased 29,750,000 francs; treasury deposits increased 31,675,000 francs; general deposits increased 27,700,000 francs; gold in hand increased 1,400,000 francs; bill discounted decreased 11,250,000 francs.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—The weekly statement of the Bank of England shows the following changes: Total reserve decreased £1,000,000; circulation increased £240,000; bullion decreased £760,000; other securities increased £5,080,000; other deposits increased $13,080,000; public deposits increased £2,100,000; note reserve decreased £475,000; government securities unchanged. The proportion of the bank's reserve to liability this week is 40.03 per cent, as compared with 44.31 per cent last week.

FIFTH AVENUE CHURCH IS SOLD

W. P. Fraser Gets $165,000 for Old Congregational Church in an Exchange Deal.

DOWNTOWN SALE IS DENIED

W. P. Fraser has sold the former Congregational church in Fifth avenue opposite Washington street to D. F. Henry for $165,000. Hay & Brown negotiated the deal through John R. Griffiths of J. H. Goshring's office. The church, which has not been used for religious services for a long time, stands on 64x112 feet. Turning to Ann street. After Mr. Fraser bought the property he remodeled the church building, making three large storerooms in front and providing a big amusement hall. There are also four small brick houses in the rear of the church facing in Ann street. The total rental from the property is something over $5,000 a year, in part payment for this property Mr. Henry tendered six new houses standing on one end of a plot 428x139 feet facing in Darragh street, near Terrace street, Fourteenth ward. The houses are fireproof dwellings built last year of concrete blocks and are the first houses of the kind in Pittsburgh. They are of the reception hall type and contain eight rooms each. The houses were put into the deal at $75,000, and with the large plot of vacant frontage left, the property is considered cheap at that price. Mr. Fraser secured title to the church last May after rather extended negotiations, and its total cost to him, including commissions and repairs, was $90,000. This leaves him a profit of nearly $70,000 in the transaction.

Protracted Deal Comes to Close.

The Land Trust Company, by its agent, W. B. Rath, has finally closed the sale of the A. A. Quinnette apartment building in Wilkinsburg, which has been pending for several weeks. Title to the property goes to H. H. Willock, who tenders in part payment for it Sqirrel Hill frontage which he secured in an exchange deal some time ago. The Quinnette building was put into the deal at $80,000. It is a five-story brick structure on 60x249 feet in Penn avenue, near Center street, and contains two large storerooms on the first floor and 16 flats of five rooms and bath. The total rental is about $5,000 a year.

It was currently reported yesterday that C. C. Mellor had sold his property in First avenue, above Cherry alley, for $95,000. This rumor was contradicted last night by Mr. Mellor, who admitted that he had received two offers of $90,000 each for the lot and another of $85,000 very recently, but that he would not sell for less than $100,000. The lot is 80x75 feet, making the price asked $1,250 a front foot.

Edward P. Keary has purchased from Max Kilburger a three-story flat building on 40x140 feet at Brighton avenue and Bennett street, Thirty-seventh ward, for $18,000. Mr. Kilburger secured the property from Morris J. Lebau last June.

New Company to Build Houses.

The Highland Realty Company has applied for a Pennsylvania charter. The company has been organized by Architects Charles M. Robinson and George Winkler, Contractors D. M. Fair of the East End and Attorneys J. H. Wise and W. E. Minor. Its primary purpose is the building of high-class houses in the East End. Six such residences, to cost about $10,000 each, have already been started by Mr. Fair on the west side of Portland avenue, near Hampton street, in the North Negley district.

Architects Nirdlinger & Simpson have awarded to the Henry Shenk Company the contract for the residence of Isaac Guckenheimer to be erected in Irwin avenue, near Wightman street, at a cost of $25,000. The residence will be of the French renaissance style of architecture and will contain 14 rooms, besides a billiard room and library.

Architect H. S. Estep has let the contract to D. A. File for the three-story brick apartment building which P. J. Boylan will erect in West Liberty at Lowen avenue and Broadway. The cost will total about $21,000 and the building will be the first strictly apartment building in West Liberty. The same architect has awarded to Mrs. C. Carroll Lumber Company of Connellsville the contract for the $30,000 brick and stone residence to be built for Thomas H. Thompson at Brownsville.

Banner Sales on Lot Plans.

Good properties, fine weather and liberal, well-directed advertising are working wonders for the firms who launched new plans this month and whose sales are running away ahead of any records made earlier in the season. The goose will soon have to wander forth from East Bellevue, for the reason that there will be no more golden opportunities in the shape of lots to sit on. The Freehold Real Estate Company is having one of the busiest weeks of the year, and its salesmen have on their books a list of buyers who represent the best classes of Bellevue, Avalon, Ben Avon, Emsworth and Allegheny, as well as a big quota from Pittsburgh. A very large proportion of the lot buyers have come from among the officials and high-priced employes of the big plants in lower Allegheny, who have found in East Bellevue the cleanliness that will never be possible in their present homes.

Between keeping in hand a dozen or more salesmen and hustling the improvements forward, George T. McDonald has had little rest on the new Brighton Heights allotment. Termon avenue has been graded to the upper end of the property, and the handsome Brighton circle is so far advanced as to give lot-seekers a good idea of the future beauty of one of the highest points in the county. The fact that the property is right on the Brighton road car line, and only one square from the California avenue lines, and its close proximity to the best residence portions of Allegheny, are making it sell off in a way that has not been equaled on any allotment in Allegheny for three years.

Centervue, the new allotment in Wilkinsburg which is being handled by the Burns & Reilly Real Estate Company, is proving the center of attraction for hundreds of residents of the East End wards, as well as of Wilkinsburg and the thriving Westinghouse town to the east of it. For years the property has been looked upon with much favor, but it has always been held out of the market. Now that it is being thrown open to homehunters its advantages are even more apparent, and an early closing out of the entire property is predicted. The most encouraging feature of the sales thus far is that a majority of the buyers are men in a position to pay cash and improve their lots at once with residences similar in cost and appearance to those in Singer place, adjoining.

Gets Renting of the Akron.

One of the nicest renting contracts secured lately is the handling of the Akron apartment house at Center avenue and Craig street, which was delegated yesterday to S. H. Lloyd of the East End. The building, which is among the best apartments in the city, was erected two years ago by John McSorley and is owned by Emanuel Wertheimer. It contains 17 suites of five and six rooms each, which are rented for about $9,400 a year.

Larimer avenue: J. A. Young & Co. sold for Fred C. Bell to Harriet M. Fair 127 Larimer avenue, Twenty-first ward, an eight-room frame house on 40x150 feet, for $8,500. The buyer will probably improve the lot with two store rooms.

Colwell street: The Aronson Realty Company reports the sale for Reuben Miller to Samuel Weller, the wholesale liquor dealer, of 1620-1622 Colwell street and 1619-1621 Our alley, for $12,000. A brick stable and a seven-room house stand on the lot.

Hazelwood: John P. Gettman sold to John D. Sweeney an improved lot, 40x87 feet, on the east side of Hazelwood avenue, Twenty-third ward, for $5,000.

Lang avenue: Joseph McKee sold to George J. Wainwright 48x113 feet at Lang avenue and Upland street, Twenty-first ward, for $2,650.

Blackhawk street: William F. Held sold to Charles A. Cupples an improved lot, 30x120 feet, on the south side of Blackhawk street, Twenty-second ward, for $1,850.

John H. Cohen yesterday took out a building permit for a two-story brick dwelling at Roberts street and Hoker alley, Eleventh ward, to cost $3,670.

South Penn Gets 15-Barrel Well in the Littleton District

Near Wallace, Harrison county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its No. 4 on the Michael Manion farm 17 feet into the Gordon and has developed no oil or gas. The well is deep enough in the sand to get the pay. In the Littleton district, Wetzel county, the same company has drilled No. 2 on the A. P. Johnson farm to the fourth sand and the well is producing 15 barrels a day. On Sycamore creek, McClellan district, Doddridge county, the Wheeling Gas Company has drilled its test on the Luther C. Kyle farm through the Gordon and has a fair gasser in that formation. In the same district the same company is down 2,500 feet at a test on the L. L. Martin farm. On Katy Lick run, Sardis district, Harrison county, the Hope Natural Gas Company has drilled its test on the Lundin Ash lot through the Gordon and has a light gasser. This was something of a surprise since it is located but 800 feet from the Philadelphia Company's very large gasser on the D. L. Ash farm, drilled in last month. Last week the Fairmont and Grafton Gas Company drilled in a light gasser on the R. A. Swiger farm, located but a short distance from the big gasser on the D. L. Ash farm. In the Burning Springs district, Wirt county, Hickman & Whan have improved their No. 23 on the A. R. Morrow farm by giving it a shot. When drilled through the sand the well was showing for a very light producer, but is now good for 20 or 15 barrels a day. Oil Middle Island creek, Tyler county, J. T. Jones has drilled his second test on the A. T. Stewart farm deeper into the Big Injun and has developed a good gasser.

On the Ohio side, in the Macksburg field, Washington county, L. Stephens has completed his test on the Daniel Miller farm and has a five-barrel pumper in the 800-foot sand. In the same district Longfellow & Clark have completed a test on the William Montgomery farm and have a show for a 10-barrel pumper in the same formation. East of Marietta, Hannan & Co. have drilled their test on the Elmer Amos farm through the sand and have a show for a very light pumper. East of Woodsfield, Monroe county, in the Berea grit development, the Carter Oil Company has drilled its No. 6 on the L. F. Reasbeck farm through the Berea grit and has a show for a five-barrel pumper.

The following are the oil prices for the various districts: Pennsylvania, $1 51; Tiona, $1 61; Second Sand, $1 21; Corning, $1 08; New Castle, $1 33; Cabell, $1 11; North Lima, 94c; South Lima and Indiana, 89c; Somerset, 83c; Ragland, 49c; Canada, $1 61.

OIL CITY, Sept. 28.—Credit balances, $1 51; certificates, no bid. Shipments, 93,696 barrels; average, 78,356 barrels. Runs, 101,667 barrels; average, 64,765 barrels. Shipments Lima, 48,106 barrels; average, 52,696 barrels. Runs, Lima, 61,190 barrels; average, 47,942 barrels.

GAS CITY, Ind., Sept. 28.—The price of all grades of oil advanced again today. The greatest increase is in the cheaper grades. Fuel oil and oil grading 20 degrees were both advanced five cents a barrel.

FLOUR NEARS FIVE DOLLAR MARK AGAIN

Butter and Egg Dealers Who Stored at High Prices Are Uneasy—Market Weaker.

Flour had another drop yesterday and is now quoted at $5 10 and $5 35 a barrel for fancy patents. In large quantities it can be had for $5. This is the lowest flour has been since July of last year when it touched the 5% mark, but shot up again. Flour dealers do not anticipate any advance above the present figures. They say $4 75 to $5 00 will be the prevailing figure for the winter and another good wheat crop next season will drop it to the figures of 1896, when it sold as low as $3 60 a barrel.

Butter, eggs and cheese are all weak. Butter dealers, those who packed butter during the summer at 20 cents, are somewhat disturbed as there are indications that they are not going to get out whole. Butter is a little stronger this week than last and may next week regain the half cent it dropped last Monday, but it will have to advance considerably to let the packers out. The eggs are in the same fix. Storage eggs must sell at 21 cents before those who stored last summer at 17 cents will make even on their insurance, storage, etc. There is no prospect of this for some time. Another month of as delightful weather as the country has been enjoying for the past month and the storage eggs will be dumped on the market to save what can be saved from the wreck. Millions of dollars are at stake and just how the storage men are feeling gloomy. The big packers beat the price up last spring during the storage months. Now the hens have taken a hand and are beating it down and the storage men stand in a fair way to lose money. Cheese is weak at the price quoted and will probably fall, unless butter makes a sharp advance, as the present prices of cheese butter should be quoted at 25 cents.

Green goods, produce and fruit are quiet this week. Liberty street is almost out of the business except in fruit. This is the height of the pear season and carloads of them are being handled every day on the street. Apples are also in great demand and peaches find a ready sale. Grapes are plentiful and are just getting into the market rightly. Next week will see the beginning of the grand rush from the grape belt.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts yesterday were: Pennsylvania lines, 22 cars hay, 10 cars oats, 4 cars corn, 5 cars straw, 1 car feed, 7 cars rye; Baltimore & Ohio railroad, 5 cars hay, 5 cars oats, 1 car straw, 1 car corn, 2 cars feed; Lake Erie, 6 cars hay, 1 car oats.

Clover and clover mixed hay is somewhat lower; receipts have been heavy and prices are reduced accordingly. Oats continue scarce. Receipts of corn are scarcely equal to the demand. There is little or no change in millfeed or straw.

LIBERAL RECEIPTS WEAKEN THE MARKET

Bearish Factor in Wheat Is Report That Drought in India Is Broken.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—Liberal receipts of wheat today in the northwest tended to weaken the wheat market. At the close values for December delivery were off 1½c, corn and oats are each down ½c. Provisions are up 5c to 10c. The only feeling in the wheat market developed soon after the opening. Influenced by higher prices at Liverpool, the market here opened steady to firm, with December unchanged to ½c higher at 80c to 80¼c. A cablegram from Liverpool reported considerable damage by insects in Argentina. The effect was soon dispelled by another report intimating that damage in Argentina was confined within a small territory. Perhaps the chief reason for the easier tone subsequently was clear weather throughout the greater portion of the United States. In this connection it was pointed out that receipts at Minneapolis and Duluth were again liberal, arrivals today at the two points being 287 cars, against 205 cars the corresponding day a year ago. Another bearish factor was a report that drought in India and Roumania had been broken. During the last part of the session the market held steadily under fair demand from a leading bull. December touched 80¾c and closed steady at 80¾@80⅞c. Receipts of wheat and flour were equal to 1,025,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 1,225,000 bushels, compared with 1,160,000 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 1,004 cars, against 784 cars last week and 537 cars a year ago.

Moderate support from a prominent bull held the corn market steady at times, notwithstanding ideal weather for the maturing of the new crop. The volume of trading was small. Export demand was reported less urgent. Primaries generally were bearishly inclined and the market closed steady. December opened unchanged to ½c lower at 49c to 49¼c, held within the opening range and closed at 49¼c. Local receipts were 277 cars, with 130 cars of contract grade.

The oats market was quite firm early on a fair cash demand. Later the market eased off a trifle in sympathy with other grain. Absence of export demand was a late factor.

GAIN IN COKE SHIPMENTS.

Western Consignments Were Good from the Connellsville Region. Local Decrease.

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—In the Connellsville region a gain was made in the western coke shipments, but both Pittsburgh and eastern consignments fell off enough to reduce the net gain to less than 2,000 tons. In the Masontown field the shipments fell off slightly at all points, the bulk of the decrease being to western points. A summary of the Connellsville coke region for the week ending September 23 shows a total of 278,233 oven, with 21,050 in operation and 2,183 idle. The week's production is estimated at 259,972 tons, a decrease of 237 tons from the previous week.

The shipments aggregated 11,285 cars, distributed as follows: Pittsburgh district, 4,436 cars; west of Pittsburgh, 5,949 cars; east of Everson, 1,200 cars; a net increase of 109 cars. The shipments amounted to 261,830 tons, an increase of 1,759 tons over the previous week. The shipments from the Masontown field aggregated 2,405 cars, distributed as follows: Pittsburgh district, 286 cars; west of Pittsburgh, 2,035 cars; east of Everson, 184 cars. These shipments are estimated at 67,340 tons, or 1,768 tons less than for the week previous.

J. T. BLAIR IS NOW PRESIDENT

D. I. Roberts Has Successor on Ohio "Little Kanawha Syndicate" Line.

GENERAL NEWS OF RAILROADS

There is considerable significance in the changes which have just been made on the Marietta, Columbus & Cleveland railroad, one of the "Little Kanawha Syndicate" lines in Ohio.

D. I. Roberts, who is best known to railroad fame as general passenger agent of the Erie railroad during the Thomas regime, has been president of the line for over two years, having been placed there through the influence of George J. Gould, it is said. He is now succeeded by J. T. Blair of Greenville, Pa., the well-known railroad builder who has had engineering charge of the Ohio and West Virginia work of the Little Kanawha syndicate. A. H. Blair was chosen secretary and treasurer and S. D. Brady chief engineer. The new board includes W. W. Mills, D. B. Torpy, J. T. Blair, J. C. Riddell and S. D. Brady.

The changes bring the road back squarely into the hands of the interests identified with Messrs. Ramsey and Goy in the Little Kanawha matter. With Pr. Roberts at the head it was not believed the road would be in that position.

At one time the Marietta, Columbus & Cleveland promised to become a link in the Wabash tidewater plans, but this seems now to be a thing of the past. It was to connect the Wheeling & Lake Erie at Zanesville with the Little Kanawha at Parkersburg, and the extension of the latter to Belington would reach the West Virginia Central. Then it was discovered that the coal lands in that section were not so dependable as had been thought and the attention of the Wabash was turned to an eastern line running from the Wabash Pittsburgh terminal. Before the plans were changed several hundred thousand dollars had been spent. The name of the syndicate was taken from this route and has never been changed, although the altering of plans made it a misnomer. It is altogether likely that some day the line will serve a valuable purpose, as it occupies a good strategic position.

War Ax 1,000 Years Old for Boothby.

When F. E. Boothby, general passenger agent of the Boston & Maine, in his capacity as president, calls to order the annual meeting next month of the American Association of General Passenger and Ticket Agents, he will use as a gavel a war ax that was wielded something like 1,000 years ago by some prehistoric warrior of this country. When he leaves the presidency of the association the gavel will be given to him by the association, as has been done in the case of each retiring president for 50 years.

This war ax is a gift from Professor Leopoldo Batres, the government archaeologist. It is a jade weapon found by the archaeologist in one of his excavations, and the statement that it is in reality the instrument of warfare of some old warrior that flourished in Mexico before the first American entered the region south of the Rio Grande is, according to the archaeologist, an uncontrovertible fact.

A band of gold will encircle the middle of the old ax and from this band will extend a gold handle set with bits of jade also given by Professor Batres, that are emblematical of the affairs of Mexico's ancient people.

To Improve Lorain Terminals.

Extensive terminal improvements of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad at Lorain will be started at once, the contract having been awarded to P. Farrell of Cincinnati. This is a part of the authorization by the company of the expenditure of $7,000,000 on improvements at various places over the entire system, and will cost in the neighborhood of $150,000. It will consist of the construction of a roundhouse with stalls for 10 locomotives, an 80-foot turntable and pit, a depressed double-track ashpit, an oil house, 30x55 feet; a building for the accommodation of trainmen, with offices, bunk rooms, toilets, etc.; a 360-ton coal tipple with a sand house, and a machine shop and blacksmith shop, with engine and boiler rooms.

The contract for the erection of 12x13 feet signal towers at Flushing Tunnel and Kent, O., 12x21-foot signal towers for Lowellville and Nova, O., and a 15x23-foot signal tower at Ravanna, O., has been awarded to W. J. Marson & Co. of Akron.

Philadelphia Car Service Increases.

The annual report of the Philadelphia Car Service association for the year ending August 31, 1905, makes a favorable showing for that organization. WITTE WELCOMED HOME.

Peace Envoy Is Received in Remarkable Contrast to His Departure for the United States.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 28.—M. Witte arrived here today and was accorded a very hearty reception by a large crowd of officials and others. In a brief speech replying to a welcoming address M. Witte showed clearly that he was deeply touched by the welcome. When he left St. Petersburg in July a small delegation of officials accompanied him to the railroad station to bid him farewell.

There was no public demonstration whatever. Today there were seven or eight times as many officials, despite the very early hour of the train's arrival, and an enthusiastic crowd of 500 to 600 people.

Fall Opening

Autumn's Fall Procession of Fashion
WILL BEGIN HERE TODAY

We believe it no idle boast to say that the doors of this establishment will open this morning on the most comprehensive collection of Women's, Misses' and Children's Outer Apparel that has ever been congregated in this store at any time.

AN ENTIRELY NEW STOCK OF

Women's, Misses' and Children's Garments
"The Most Complete Ever Brought Together"

There is little more to say—excepting our "Cordial Invitation" for you to be here. We issue no cards.

OUR PUBLIC IS EVERYBODY—AND EVERYBODY IS WELCOME

A word as to prices. We realize fully that style and quality are not everything—the surest way to your confidence is through the medium of cost to you. What you pay us for any garment in our stock will be the very least it can be sold for, which means less than you can buy it for elsewhere. With this policy in mind we approach this autumn showing with a wide-open door.
